Bay aims to save Favre's council seat

Current measures would eliminate city's only black-majority district

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Staff Writer

Area black leaders are urging the U.S. Justice Department to preserve the only "minority majority" seat on Bay St. Louis City Council.

That would assure that the political boundaries of the city's four wards would remain the same, rather than be changed to reflect 2000 Census numbers.

Local officials say there's no way to re-map the city and equalize the population in each of the wards, without putting too many whites in the predominately black Ward 3.

In his official submission to the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice, Mayor Eddie Favre noted that the city population grew by only 149 residents in the 10 years between 1990 and 2000.

And that rate of growth isn't expected to increase significantly, unless the city is successful in adding 3,400 residents through its current annexation attempt, he said.

If annexation is successful, it would require redistricting to adjust representation numbers.

As it stands, Ward 3's black council member Tom Favre represents a popula-

I-10 traffic stop reveals 265 pounds of marijuana

Deputies arrest Miami man, impound truck

Hancock County Sheriff's Lt. Tim Broder and Reserve Deputy Nathaniel Jewell, in stopping an 18-wheeler on Interstate 10 early Tuesday, confiscated some 265 pounds of marijuana, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

"During a routine patrol, myself and Deputy Jewell observed an 18-wheeler on Interstate 10 East bound traveling very slow in a 70-mile-per-hour speed zone and with an improperly displayed license tag. We pulled the vehicle over and observed numerous discrepancies in the drivers log book," Broder's report said.

Ex-Diamondhead Water & Sewer employees petition supers to regain lost jobs

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Former Diamondhead Water and Sewer District employee Joe Dobson presented a petition containing some 400 names to the Board of Supervisors yesterday, requesting the recall of their appointments to the Board of Commissioners for the district. Dobson appealed to the board help him and six other employees who were fired from the district's maintenance department over the past two weeks.

Board attorney Ronnie Artigues said the board had no authority to recall appointments because the Diamondhead board was a separate legal entity. Commissioners will serve out their terms, said Artigues.

Board members come from districts 3 and 5, said Board of Supervisors President Rocky Pullman, and appointments are approved by Supervisors from a list of recommended candidates chosen by the Diamondhead board themselves.

Dobson asked if Commissioners could be removed if they were found to be guilty of a crime or misdoing. Artigues said that board members could be removed under such circumstances but that such action would not fall under the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors, but rather under the jurisdiction of the District Attorney or the Attorney General's office. He suggested that the group appeal to those offices if they felt they had a grievance.

Seven workers, all fired from the district within a two-week period, began picketing along with other employees, family and friends at the entrance to the Diamondhead subdivision last week. Representatives from the AFL-CIO and the IBW 733 labor unions also picketed with workers and continue to support their efforts.

Dobson said the men will continue their picketing efforts, but may have to take turns, or scale back participation because of other obligations, number one, the need to find alternative employment to support their families.

The men say they do not know why they were fired and that severance notices stated only "at will," indicating the district's right to fire at will. Only two employees were left in the maintenance department after the firings, Dobson said earlier. A civil suit against the district is in the works, he said, and indeed he was accompanied at the meeting by the group's attorney.

As yet, no one from the Diamondhead district has agreed to comment on the firings, but Dobson said that he and other workers were informed of a meeting at the plant last Friday afternoon between some plant officials, Commissioners and members of the Board of Supervisors. When they called the plant, Dobson said, they were told that there was no meeting.

District 3 Supervisor Lisa Cowand said that she and Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar, who was acting for absent District 5 Supervisor Jay Cuevas, did attend a meeting at the plant last Friday with general manager Mike Collard and two commissioners, Ray C. Murphy and Jack Cleveland.

Cowand said she was told that plant officials had documented all incidents that preceded the firings and that the Commission's attorney Lynn Blackwell had advised them to make no further comments on the matter.

Talons participate in All-Star Dance Camp, six chosen for dance team

Hancock High dancers bring home honors and awards

Members of the Hancock High School Talons Dance Team recently participated in American All-Star Dance Camp.

While at camp, the team learned eleven creative performance routines. The team also learned the importance of team responsibilities and positive attitudes.

At the conclusion of the camp, the girls performed some of the routines they learned to an audience of family and friends.

Six members were selected to be on the American All-Star Dance Team. The girls honored with this selection are Amanda Altzman, Melinda Dittmann, Lauren Lacoste, Kellie Davis, Bernita Washington, and Elizabeth White.

Members of the Hancock High School Talons Dance Team include: (First row) Melinda Dittmann, Elizabeth White, Amanda Altzman, Lauren Lacoste

In November, these girls will have the opportunity to travel to Honolulu, Hawaii, as featured performers in the American All-Star Goodwill Tour at Aloha Stadium. Members of this team are selected from over 8,000 girls.

At the conclusion of the camp, awards were given to the following participants: Most Outstanding Performers: Elizabeth White and Amanda Altzman; Most Spirited: Lauren Lacoste

The team's outstanding performance at the American All-Star camp indicates it is off to a great start.

The girls can be seen performing for school activities, in competition, community events and at local sports events.

Civil Servers set Aug. 23 at Court Street Station

Court St. Station will host Civil Servers, a benefit featuring celebrity waiters, for Annabelle's Home, a primate sanctuary in Kiln that serves as a home for monkeys that are endangered species.

If you've ever wanted the Bay St. Louis police chief to bring you a glass of wine or your councilman to bring you a piece of cheesecake, here's your chance. Don't forget to tip them well, because all the gratuities go to Annabelle's Home.

This event will take place Aug. 23 from 6 to 10 p.m.

Barbara Heally, also known as the "Monkey Lady," has been rescuing and rehabilitating primates for many years. Many of these animals have been abused and starved. Their only hope for a decent life is a place like Annabelle's Home.

Because there are not many places like the sanctuary, many of these primates have been destroyed.

The sanctuary has been kept a secret to protect the animals. The monkeys are usually in a delicate condition when they get to the home, and sightseers could cause them more stress.

Annabelle's Home was named for a snub tail Makak who was rescued by Heally from a roadside circus. She had been badly mistreated and was to the point of death. Annabelle was cared for and brought back to health.

She lived the remaining years of her life with the Heally family. After her death, the sanctuary was named in her memory because her story embodies the goal the sanctuary strives for.

For reservations, call 228-467-3636. Court St. Station is located at 200 South Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis.

Court St. Cabaret presents 'Coupla White Chicks' Aug. 29-Sept. 20

Court St. Cabaret will present "A Coupla White Chicks Sitting Around Talking" Aug. 29 through Sept. 20.

Colleen Abadie will direct this comedy by John Ford Noonan starring local performers Bonnie Pardo and Celene Mielcarek.

Seating for dinner begins at 6 p.m. with show time at 8 on Fridays and Saturdays. For dinner and the show, tickets are $30 per person. Tickets for the show only are $15 per person. A matinee is scheduled for Sept. 14 with seating for lunch beginning at 1 p.m. and the show starting at 3 p.m.

To make reservations, call 228-467-3636. The theater is located at 200 South Beach Blvd. in Bay St. Louis.

Annual Hancock Chamber EXPO scheduled today

Today marks the 6th Annual Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business and Industry EXPO.

The hours are 4 to 7 p.m. and the location is the Hancock County Civic Center on Longfellow Road.

There are 95 booths scheduled for the ever expanding chamber project.

Admission is only $3 per person and this entitles a person to complimentary food and beverages, give-aways and chances of winning door prizes.

There will also be a drawing for $1,000 in cash, to enter just visit a certain number of booths at the EXPO and have card marked.

There are many co-sponsors to the EXPO and it just keeps growing and growing.

I hope to see you at the EXPO this afternoon.

On Saturday morning I visited the newly expanded Waveland Library, and I am very impressed with the new facility.

The facility is one the city of Waveland and residents of Hancock County can be very proud of and our Library System continues to improve its services to the resident of our county.

If you have not visited the Waveland Library, you may be surprised at the expanded facilities and services now offered. Visit a library in your neighborhood today.

It is good to see that the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources will be distributing about 7,500 yards of oyster shells in the Bay of St. Louis area.

The oyster shells and other materials which oyster larvae attach, should increase oyster production in our local waters.

There will be three sites, a 4.5-acre tonging reef, a 14-acre tonging reef and a 65-acre dredging reef in Hancock County waters.

One of the things we do not see much any more is folks tonging for oysters.

Hopefully the new reefs will bring back more oyster tongs once again.

It is good to see oysters once again growing along the seawall, (these are not to be harvested), but it shows the quality of our water is improving.

The Department of Marine Resources play an important role in oyster production, making sure water quality is correct, etc.

I just love a good oyster po-boy.

Veterans' health care blocked in Congress

On July 25, the U.S. House of Representatives passed the VA-HUD Appropriations Bill with a vote of 316 to 109.

Although I voted for the passage of this legislation, I am deeply upset that the leadership blocked opportunities to adequately fund Veterans health care.

Our nation has an obligation to provide proper and sufficient health care for those whose wounds have brought freedom to the world and kept our shores safe.

There are always young American men and women who are ready when their country needs them, unfortunately, the leadership in the House of Representatives is not

IN CONGRESS

By Representative

equally ready to provide proper health care for those same individuals.

Through the use of a special rule in the form of H. Res. 338, the Republican House majority was able to prevent additional funding amendments to the already lean VA-HUD appropriations bill.

In particular, the Smith/Evans amendment would have provided an additional $1.8 billion of needed funding for VA health care. This amendment was strongly backed by veterans groups and advocates like myself. Yet, the Republican majority blocked this amendment from being considered.

Earlier this year I opposed the GOP Budget Resolution that provided an inadequate allocation for the VA-HUD Appropriations. The Blue Dog Budget I supported was considerably more in-line with the needs of veterans and the VA.

However, the House GOP majority and the Bush Administration placed a higher priority on tax cuts for the wealthiest Americans above pressing needs like veterans health care.

Despite the promises of Republicans to be more sensitive to veterans needs, the VA continues to struggle. Currently, more than 235,000 veterans are waiting six months or longer for initial appointments.

Head starters — Pawns in a political chess game

Four-year-old Kyle Welch speared a bite-size morsel of beef ravioli with his fork and was about to pick up some green beans with his fingers when he remembered ... the fork.

It was the sandy-haired youngster's second day in Head Start here at Smith Chapel Head Start Center.

Moments earlier, Kyle had been first with his hand up to answer "Mississippi," and "Flora" when I asked Ms. Alma Lou Williams' class to name their home state and town.

But, what little Kyle and his 73 schoolmates (3 and 4 years old) in the sparkling new $1.2 million Head Start center here didn't know is they have become pawns in a huge Washington political chess game launched by the Bush Administration.

Some alleged wiseacres

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

in the Administration are pushing a plan--already passed by a 217-216 vote in the U.S. House of Representatives--which smacks of dismantling Head Start's 38-year-old success story.

Head Start has become the Bushies' latest target of devolution, the process of divesting the federal government of responsibility to fund and oversee programs that have benefited millions of Americans, and toss them over to the states.

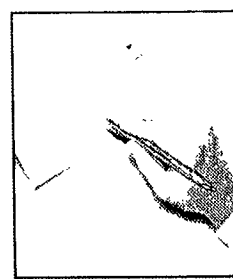

Of course, the states are so cash-strapped that they neither want or need the feds to hand them the burden of picking up the tab and running another major program.

More especially, Head Start, that long-ago proved itself by being operated through local community-based sponsors under federal grants and guidelines.

Mississippi was a prime example of why Head Start, designed as a bootstrap school readiness and pre-literacy program for children from poor families, came into being in 1965 as part of Lyndon Johnson's War on Poverty. For this poor state it was a Godsend.

In the years since, Head Start has become deeply enmeshed in Mississippi's social and educational fabric, a cornerstone for improving the quality of life for the "least of our brethren," of whom this state has a great many.

Many whites in Mississippi regarded Head Start at its inception as a taxpayer-funded boondoggle to provide a huge baby-sitting nursery for black kids. They have been proved wrong since, as 500,000 of the state's most vulnerable children have been better able to compete in school and life.

As Mrs. Ida Russell, manager of the Smith Chapel Center, and a veteran of the program, observed: "When it began, Head Start brought many out of the cotton fields, but over the years it has proven that it has made a positive country veterans have reported waiting two years just to be seen by a doctor. These facts are symptoms of a strained system. Encouraging words from Republican leaders for our nation's veterans have not been uncommon since the last presidential election.

Yet, the President's request for total VA discretionary funding fell $3 billion short of what veterans groups recommended.

The President's funding request ignored the concerns of veterans who cite several areas that could benefit from more adequate funding. Veterans should not have to wait for benefits they have earned. They should be granted timely access to quality health care.

Due to the nature of the injuries and ailments suffered by those who have fought in war, we must continue the necessary research to provide the special care they need. VA doctors and other personnel are already strained, trying to do their work on a budget that just isn't enough.

The great hypocrisy is that while the administration and republican leaders can patriotically send troops to the Middle East at constant risk of bodily harm, they will not properly support the military medical system to care for the wounded when they get home.

It is a shame that our nation's leaders cannot see the value in supporting America's veterans. Even in a time of war and heightened national security the veterans needs are being short-changed.

Congress is sending a poor message to our troops and following a bad precedent for veterans funding. We had an opportunity to do the right thing. However, the President and the leadership in the House teamed up to push another disappointing VA funding bill.

South Mississippi is fortunate to have a strong veteran community. We appreciate the sacrifices of our service men and women. I am well aware of the effects a tight budget can have on a veteran and VA health care and I will always work hard as the veteran's voice from South Mississippi. It is unfortunate the republican majority can't say the same.

Thank You

I would like to thank each and everyone who came out on August 5th, 2003 to show their support in my run for House of Representatives, District 95.

I am a young Republican and this was my first endeavor to run for office. I have learned a lot and I must say thank you to some very important people that dug holes for my signs, allowed me to place my signs on their private property and supported me financially.

First I would like to say thanks to my strong and supportive wife, Sandi Seymour Necaise for all of her hard work. Rev. and Mrs. Bobby Seymour, my father in law and mother in law for their prayers and support. Ross Bentz for helping me dig holes and put signs up. Michael Stewart for helping me put signs up. These friends and family worked tirelessly during this election and I will never be able to thank them enough.

Most important in my life are my children and I must thank my three year old son Drake Francis for being a wonderful little boy who when asked what my political signs said his reply was, "Vote for my Daddy". And last but not least my other son Bo who rounded up all of his friends in Harrison County and stood at the polls for 8 hours holding up my signs.

I wish both Jessica Upshaw and Robert Thompkins the best of luck in their runoff.

So many people from Harrison and Hancock County encouraged and supported me during my run for office and I hope I have not left anyone out in my thanks. Sandi and I have met many new and wonderful friends and are very proud to call Diamondhead our home.

Sincerely,

difference in the lives not only of children, but also the family."

Housed in its impressive new six-room buff-brick building, the Head Start center here obviously has strong support from Flora's mayor, JW Richardson (who is white), who dropped in during my visit to the center. "We're progressive here in Flora and this is just an example of it," he said.

His attitude sharply differs from my recollections of how Mississippi's white political structure resisted and tried to thwart the mostly-black Head Start sponsoring groups from getting the program off the ground in the mid-1960s, even harassing them with Sovereignty Commission agents.

As the name implies, the origins of the Head Start school here had some association with a local Baptist church named Smith Chapel.

When the first Head Start school here was to be opened in 1965, it was supposed to be housed in the church, but after elders received threatening calls that the church was in danger, the school was moved to an old apartment.

(Remember, in the two-year span of 1964 and 1965 more than 60 black churches across the state were set afire or bombed by clandestine night-riders.)

Andrew Thompson of Flora, then a farmer, was one of the local black pioneers who helped found the original Head Start school and is still one of its most loyal backers.

"The white community didn't want it (Head Start) back then because they couldn't set on top of it and run it, and they didn't help," Thompson, a sturdy 87-year-old World War II Army Air Corps veteran, told me.

Looking over a list of Smith Chapel Head Start's 2,200 alumni that have gone on to become doctors, medical technicians, educators and successful business persons, Thompson said: "If it hadn't been for Head Start, they wouldn't be where they are today."

He said he has read only sketchy details of how the Bush Administration proposes to revamp Head Start, "but what I've seen, I don't like. We have proved it has worked, and now they want to use us as a guinea pig."

Today the state has 334 Head Start centers operated by 24 different private sponsors with a total of 26,742 enrollees. Ninety percent must come from families at or below the poverty level. Among the largest sponsors are Friends of Children which covers 15 counties, and Mississippi Action for Progress (MAP) in 22 counties.

Backers of the Bush plan claim their aim in remaking the Head Start program is to "blend" it into state-financed preschool programs. That shows a lack of knowledge that partnering with public schools is already being done to smooth the transition of just-turned five year olds into public kindergarten.

"To better prepare our graduates to enter kindergarten in the fall, our teachers, along with teachers from the public school conduct special month-long classes in the summer," said Marvin Hogan, executive director of Friends of Children.

One side of Head Start that is little known is the role it has played in assisting unemployed parents of Head Start children to receive job training or secure employment.

Because the massive new Nissan plant at Canton is only 17 miles from Flora, Smith Chapel's Ida Russell has held job workshops for out-of-work parents and also provided transportation for them to Nissan job fairs. "Ours is really a one-on-one relationship with the parents," she said.

The Bush Administration proposal initially would have eight states take over Head Start, of which Mississippi is not one. But it is naive for anyone (U.S. Rep. Chip Pickering voted for it) to think Mississippi would escape being devoured sooner or later.

As the saying goes "if it ain't broke, don't fix it." Head start fits that description to a "T."

"Why can't somebody take the worry out of roaming?"

Do we think alike or what?

Ladner was not aware of the vote and did not lend his support to the project, said Board President Rocky Pullman.

"Since the letter was drafted, many problems have been brought to our attention," said Pullman. "Problems with roads and drainage and we feel that we lent our support to a project without knowing enough about it ... we are rescinding that support. Our intent was never to overshadow the city (Waveland) planning and zoning process, but to help the elderly."

The project, proposed as a part of a ten year expansion plan by Gulfside assembly and named Rometta's Place, after Gulfside founding member Rometta Roberts, has been the center of controversy over the past couple of months spurring the formation of a neighborhood "watchdog" organization, the Waveland Residential Preservation Assoc., who oppose the project. Other neighbors also oppose the project. Main objections to the project centered on the lack of supportive infrastructure in the area such as proper drainage systems, increased traffic volume on small neighborhood streets, a concern that the project was in a flood zone, and a zoning change that had been requested from an R-1 single family to an R-2 multifamily.

Residents were also fearful that the first phase of the project, which proposed 36 initial units, would later expand to a larger housing project once the zoning was changed. Architect Allison Anderson said that the fully completed multi-phase project is expected to house a maximum of 120 seniors.

Gulfside Assembly later withdrew their proposal for a zoning change and have since asked for a special exception to build the first phase of the project.

Representatives from Gulfside Assembly, along with Anderson, as well as opponents to the project will have a chance to meet face to face. On Monday, August 25 at 6 p.m. the issue will once again come up at a monthly meeting of the Waveland Planning and Zoning Board. The meeting will be held at The Waveland Police Dept. building on Hwy. 90.

tion of 1,553. That includes 588 whites and 906 non-whites. The total population is 500 fewer than the "ideal" distribution, a variance of some 24 percent.

Other wards are off the ideal number as well. Variances include almost 14 percent too many residents in Ward 1, and almost 19 percent too many in Ward 4. Meanwhile, Ward 2 holds 8 percent too few residents, according to city data.

With its concentration of black residents, Ward 3 traditionally has elected a black council member, while the other three wards, and the at-large seat, have gone to white candidates.

City officials say adding residents to Ward 3's lines from neighboring wards would dilute the black majority.

"As the only minority council member representing the City of Bay St. Louis, I wholeheartedly support our existing ward lines without changes," Farve said in a letter to Justice officials.

"As shown by written letters of support by our community leaders, it is important that we keep the minority majority intact. It is both good for the people of Ward Three and The City of Bay St. Louis, A Place Apart," Farve wrote.

The council member solicited letters of support from the Hancock County Chapter of the N.A.A.C.P. and several churches in his ward, including Morning Star Baptist Church, Triumph The Church and Kingdom of God in Christ, Power House of Deliverance Ministries, Knights of Peter Claver, Valena C. Jones Memorial United Methodist Church and St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church.

Their statements of support were included in the city's submission to the Justice Department.

Council members earlier this summer agreed to seek the waiver from mandatory redistricting. Municipal elections are two years away, allowing enough time to re-map the city ward lines if the waiver isn't granted.

"Sylvio Molano, 59 of Miami, FL, the driver of the truck was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana with intent to distribute. He was lodged at the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $250,000 bond," Broder reported.

Also assisting from the Hancock County Sheriff's Department in the discovery of the marijuana included, Lt. Jimmy Esposito, Sgt. Jason Chandler, and Sgt. Doug Ladner. Forfeiture of the tractor and trailer are pending.

Agent Abe Long, who is currently assigned to CNET (Coast Narcotics Enforcement Team) is in charge of the investigation.

USDA urges farmers to nominate and vote for farmers to serve on local county committees Nomination forms for this year's Farm Service Agency (FSA) County Committee Election are due in FSA county offices by September 5, 2003. The FSA County Committee Election will be held December 1, 2003.

"It is crucial that every eligible producer take part in this election because the county FSA committee is a direct link between the farm community and the U.S. Department of Agriculture," said Mary Gwathney, FSA County Executive Director. "The election of responsible agricultural producers is important to all farmers and ranchers."

Committee members are a critical component of the day-to-day operations of FSA. Farmers who serve on the committee help decide the kind of programs their counties will have and how they will be administered. They make FSA agricultural programs fit the needs of local producers.

Committee members apply their judgment and knowledge to make local decisions; however, they operate within official regulations designed to carry out federal laws.

Form FSA-669A signed by the nominee is needed to nominate a farmer-candidate. The form includes a statement that the candidate agrees to serve if elected. Nominating forms are available at the local FSA office located at 1222 South Main St, Poplarville, MS.

Farmers, operators, tenants, and sharecroppers of legal voting age can vote if they live in the eligible LAA and are currently engaged in the operation of a farm or ranch. The eligible voters' list is complete and available for viewing at the local FSA office. Ballots will be mailed to all eligible voters by November 18, 2003.

A county or area served by the FSA County Committee is divided into Local Administrative Areas (LAA).

One member on the County Committee represents each LAA. A person may vote in only one LAA in each county or area. FSA committee members serve staggered three-year terms; therefore, the election this year will be held for LAA2. LAA2 is comprised of the communities from Spring Hill to Ford Creek to Cross Roads to Sones Chapel and LAA4 is all of Hancock Co. West of Hwy 53 and 603.

REMEMBER, submit your nominee to the local office by SEPTEMBER 5TH, 2003.

Bay property taxes could double

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Staff Writer

Property taxes in Bay St. Louis would almost double under a budget proposed by Mayor Eddie Favre for fiscal year 2004. And a natural gas rate hike is in the works as well.

Favre is asking for a 9.5 mill tax hike, on top of the city's existing 10.5 mill levy. Gas rates probably will rise by 10 to 12 percent, he said.

City Council members, who must have a new budget in place Sept. 15, showed some surprise at the size of Favre's tax hike request, but shied away from questions Tuesday of whether they will go along with it. After 10 years of levying a mere five mill tax, council boosted its rate to 10.5 mills last year.

Council has called a special workshop for 5:15 p.m. Monday to continue discussing the fiscal roadmap. An official public hearing is set for Sept. 8 at 5:30 p.m. on it.

And council has a special meeting scheduled for Sept. 15, at 5:30, to take final action.

Favre unveiled his proposal in a workshop Monday, although council members had received advanced copies to study several days prior to the meeting.

The mayor said the additional taxes are needed primarily to cover two big ticket items: a 33 percent boost in health insurance costs, and the debt service on the city's new $2 million general obligation bond issue.

The health insurance tab comes as an additional $212,000 municipal cost, about the value of three mills' taxation. Principal and interest on the bond issue - for a citywide street paving program - comes to another $136,000. In all, the city's debt service for the new and old bond issues comes to over $775,000.

There are other large outlays in the proposal, including 50-cent-per-hour raises for municipal hourly workers, who got no raise last year. Salaried employees, who haven't seen a raise in three years, are up for a $1,200 hike.

Favre said his own salary will increase 1.6 percent, to some $61,400. City council members' compensation will increase by $50 a month, to $13,000 yearly.

Several other key items in the expense columns of the proposal include:

- Funds to repair the roofs on all three of the city's main buildings: City Hall, City Hall Annex and part of the VCJ complex. Favre said the repairs can't be postponed any longer, and council members pointed to water damage in their own meeting room. The mayor said part of the roof at the VCJ's cafeteria has collapsed entirely.
- Money to repaint the city's two water towers, an overdue maintenance item required by state and federal regulations.

- An additional $280,000 in wastewater treatment costs. Favre said he's hopeful that figure will come down significantly when regional officials adjust the formulas used to calculate the proportionate shares paid by the cities and unincorporated area.

- The natural gas rate hike Favre seeks is sparked by two factors, said the mayor. One is the closing of Alcan Cable, the city's largest gas customer. Another is the upward spiral of gas costs.

- While in past years the city has absorbed gas cost hikes without increasing customer rates, officials say stresses on city finances won't allow that practice anymore. Favre said the hike will be in the range of 10 to 12 percent.

- Another shift in the city's finances comes with Favre's decision to quit charging the city's utility system a "management service fee." Last year, the general fund took in $300,000 from the utility fund, to cover administrative costs of the utility operations.

- Favre said the new budget puts the utility system on its own from an accounting standpoint.

- He also has eliminated a budget item for late payment charges by the utility system. Favre said budgeting over $100,000 in expected late penalties is an unrealistic inflation of anticipated revenues.

- The budget anticipates tripling the city's "planning" expenses to $125,000. Favre said the extra money primarily is needed for consultants and legal fees for the city's massive annexation attempt.

In all, the budget totals over $10.9 million, an increase of $757,000 over expected spending this year. The extra 9.5-mill tax hike would cover $730,000 of that.

The budget reflects a permanent loss of four positions in the police department and two in the administrative department. The mayor said four new workers will be hired for Public Works, to help implement the street resurfacing program.

Additional equipment also is in the Public Works budget for that program. The mayor said he had hoped to finance some new police vehicles this year, but opted to put the money toward raises instead.

Bay St. Louis' pay rates for police, he said, are woefully low - some $4,000 less for starting pay of police in Long Beach. As a result, Bay St. Louis is losing patrol officers to neighboring governments, Favre said.

Anonymous tip leads to drug arrests

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

The Hancock County Narcotics Division received a tip on a possible drug sale to take place Tuesday in Bay St. Louis at Beach Boulevard and Washington Street. The tip led to two arrests, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

Narcotic's Division Chief Capt. Matt Karl along with Agents Chris Russell and Clifton (Bubba) Malley were involved in making the arrests. Karl said, "Keon Hawkins, 23, 601 Amar St. and Kevin Gillum, 29, 615 Amar St., both of Waveland were arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute.

They were lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of $50,000 bond each for the charges. In addition Hawkins is being held for the MS Department of Corrections without bond because of a parole violation."

The arrests occurred around 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Karl said, "As we tried to apprehend the two, they tried to flee in a vehicle and we had to ram the vehicle to get them to stop. As they exited the vehicle the passenger had approximately one-quarter ounce of crack cocaine in his mouth trying to swallow it."

Bay St. Louis Police gave assistance by transportation the suspects to jail and the vehicle was confiscated along with some cash.

Agent Russell is in charge of the case, Karl said.

Antoine to step down as Pass alderman effective Sept. 30

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

As of Sept. 30, Michael Antoine will no longer serve as Pass Christian's alderman for Ward 2.

Antoine's letter of resignation was accepted by the board at an Aug. 6 meeting.

Since he has approximately six months left on his term, the board must hold a special election to replace Antoine, a city official said. The board has within 10 working days of Antoine vacating his position to have an order for the election. Then, the board has 45 working days to hold the election.

To qualify for the Ward 2 position, a candidate must be a resident of the ward. This contender must also submit a petition of 50 qualified electors from the ward at least 10 days prior to the election.

"Antoine was an outstanding alderman," Mayor Billy McDonald said. "He is very conscientious."

Check out the Summer's End festival

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Labor Day weekend will be filled with festivals all over Hancock County. In Bay St. Louis the Knights of Columbus #1522 are sponsoring the 2nd Annual Summer's End Festival, three days of fun at the St. Augustine Seminary Soccer Field.

The Festival will begin on Saturday August 30 at 10 a.m. with music starting at 2 p.m. The Be-Bops will play from 2 p.m. till 6 p.m. and the Relative Unknowns will play from 7 p.m. till 11 p.m. Also on Saturday the Misfits Street Krewzers will display an array of antique and classic cars. This will be the only day for the car show and anyone wanting to participate should call Ricky Adam at 228-216-5035.

On Sunday August 31 festivities will begin Noon with music by Flipside from 7 p.m. till 11 p.m. Beginning at 1 p.m. music and entertainment will be by live radio remote with DJ personalities from Magic 93.7 and K99 FM.

On Monday Labor Day September 1 the festival will get underway at 10 a.m. with unspecified entertainment from Noon till 4 p.m.

Local Eight and Forty officers attend Departmental de Mississippi Marche

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Brenda Newell of Gautier conducted La Boutique des Huit Chapeaux et Quarant Femmes (Eight and Forty), Departmental de Mississippi's annual Marche (convention) recently at The American Legion Post in Pascagoula. Serving with Mrs. Newell was Marsha Krebs of Pascagoula, Demi Premiere Chapeau (first vice president); Jane Snouffer of Bay St. Louis, Demi Deuxieme Chapeau (second vice president); Diane Cantrell of Gautier, La Secretaire/Cassiere (secretary/treasurer); Mattie North of Bay St. Louis, L'Archiviste (historian); Shelby Byrd of Gulfport, L'Aumonier (chaplain); Janet Aime of Waveland, La Concierge (sergeant-at-arms); Gladys Bassett of Pascagoula, L'Avocate (parliamentarian); and Phyllis Moran of Bay St. Louis, Pouvoir Member (executive committee).

The Eight and Forty is a subsidiary organization of the American Legion Auxiliary. The obligation of each partner is to faithfully promise to do all in her power to uphold the ideals and principles of The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary; to strengthen the ties that bind to the parent organizations; to promote good fellowship; and to assist in the prevention and control of tuberculosis, cystic fibrosis, lung and other respiratory diseases in children. The Eight and Forty is a non-profit organization, and all funds derived from its fund-raisers are used to help children. The national theme this year has been 'Every Child Needs A Fairy Godmother'.

Partners were welcomed with a continental breakfast preceding the business meetings. The fellowship included a game led by Cindy Harper of Gautier called 'What do you wear/what do you carry?' and won by Ms. Aime.

Chapeaux Passe (past presidents) of the Departmental were introduced, and those in attendance were Mrs. Bassett and Mary Lyles of Pascagoula, Ms. Aime, Mrs. Moran, and Mrs. Cantrell.

A silent auction was held to raise funds for the programs of the Eight and Forty. Funds are donated by the Departmental for nurses scholarships (specialized training in the treatment of lung and respiratory diseases), the American Legion Child Welfare Foundation, the National Jewish Center, the Children's Recreation Fund and the National Chapeau's All Partners Project. Reports were made by committee chairmen on this year's accomplishments. Membership Chairman Mrs. Krebs reported reaching 102% membership goal. A memorial service was conducted by Ms. Byrd, remembering deceased partners Mae McGrath and Faye Brooks, both of the Jackson County Salon.

Elections of officers and delegates were conducted, and Mrs. Moran and Mrs. Krebs will represent the Departmental at La Marche Nationale to be held in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Krebs was installed as chapeau for the 2003-2004 year in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Bassett. Mrs. Krebs has previously served the Departmental as Demi Premiere Chapeau (Vice President) and her local Salon as Chapeau, as well as other offices and as chair of several committees.

The other officers of the Departmental for the year are Annie Powell of Gulfport, Demi Premiere Chapeau; Carrie Rau of Gulfport, Demi Deuxieme Chapeau; Mrs. Lyles, L'Archiviste; Mary Louise Morgan of Pascagoula, L'Aumonier; Gracia Dresback of Gulfport, La Concierge; Mrs. Newell, Pouvoir Member; and Mrs. Moran, La Secretaire/La Cassiere. Mrs. Krebs was pinned, and Mrs. Newell was presented her past chapeau pin and a gift of appreciation. Mrs. Newell presented each of her officers and committee chairman with appreciation gifts of handmade earrings.

Chairman for the event was Mrs. Bassett, and food chairmen were Mrs. Lyles and Mrs. Krebs.

The registration committee was Thelma Whatley and Betty Douglas of Pascagoula and Doris Huggins of Gautier. The silent auction was conducted by Jo Tisbury of Gautier and Ms. Morgan, and Retta Cardin of Bay St. Louis. The audit committee was chaired by Mrs. Lyles, and the pages were June Beasley of Gautier and Frances Saucier of Pascagoula.

Qualification for partnership in the Eight and Forty is by outstanding service to the American Legion Auxiliary.

Pass Christian native begins NMMC family Medicine Residency program

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Erin A. DeWitt, M.D., of Pass Christian is one of five residents who recently began their family medicine residency at the North Mississippi Medical Center Family Medicine Residency Center in Tupelo.

"The family medicine residency program emphasizes quality medical education through traditional medical and: surgical rotations. The program's quality is, also enhanced by a broad-based curriculum in family medicine in the NMMC Family Medicine Residency Center and in rural rotations throughout our health care company's regional network of medical clinics," said Michael O'Dell, M.D., a board-certified family physician and director of the NMMC family medicine residency program. "Our primary goal is to increase the number of board-certified family physicians in Mississippi, and this program is leading us in that direction."

Dr. DeWitt received a bachelor's degree from Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala., and completed her medical training at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine in Jackson.

Dr. DeWitt and her husband, Steve, have an 8-month-old son, Joseph. Dr. DeWitt is the daughter of Rick and Sally Adam of Bay St. Louis and Tim and Deborah Gallagher of Gulfport.

For more information on the NMMC family medicine residency training program, call (662) 377-2189 or 1-800-THE DESK (1-800-843-3375).

Mentors needed for students

Training sessions for the Bay-Waveland School District Mentoring Program will be Tuesday, September 2, 2003 from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m., and Thursday, September 4, 2003 from 6:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m., at the Hancock County Library, Bay St. Louis branch.

Mentoring is a wonderful way for caring adults to share their wisdom with future generations and to strengthen their communities. If you are interested in becoming a mentor, please call Donna Torres at 467-0444. The children of Bay St. Louis and Waveland need you.

Health fair ends up with small numbers, but they make big impact

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The recent Children's Health and Safety Fair sponsored by the Hancock/West Harrison Kiwanis Club and American Legion Post 77 hosted almost 100 children and 50 parents. Organizers had hoped that over 200 children would attend.

However, even with the smaller number of children ... the purpose of the fair was realized as the children attending were afforded access to information on vital safety and health issues, including fire safety, drug use, nutrition, free medical coverage and much more. One of the features of this annual fair is the free dental screenings offered by Doctor Frank Conaway of Bay St. Louis and the free vision screenings offered by Dr. James Benigno Jr. of Coast Eyecare PLLC of Pass Christian.

This year the vision screening and dental screening turned up several children who had serious problems that required immediate attention. In one case, a two and one half year old little boy was found to have serious vision problems which required eye-glasses, an eye patch and special exercise to bring his vision back to normal.

"You never think about getting an eye exam for your children at this early of an age," stated the boy's mother. She took her son into Coast Eyecare for treatment and she reported that "The difference in my son is astounding! He never complained about his vision ... but now that he has glasses he is noticing colors and shapes and things that we never knew he could not see clearly!"

The Health Fair will be an annual event promises the Kiwanis Club. We are looking at ways to make it bigger and better and how to attract more children and parents. We may join with other local organizations to do a combination fair that will offer more things such as free shots for children in preparation for the school year. The Kiwanis are the world's largest service club and focuses their efforts on serving the youth of their respective communities. Meetings are held every Tuesday at noon at Court St. Cuisine on Court St. in Bay St. Louis and are open to anyone interested in learning more about the organization.

For more information about Kiwanis or the Health Fair call Terry Latham at 228-467-7945.

Time running out to get on no-call list

BY BARBARA POWELL
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — There's less than two weeks left for consumers to have their telephone numbers included in the first editions of both the Mississippi and the national no-call lists that go into effect Oct. 1.

The lists will be updated every quarter. Consumers who miss the first deadline will have until Nov. 30 to sign up for the next list, which will be published Jan. 1.

The National and state registries will be available to telemarketers as of Sept. 1, and telemarketers must comply as of Oct. 1. Telemarketers will be required to check the lists every three months, and refrain from calling numbers on the list or face fines.

Since it opened June 27, the National Do Not Call Registry has registered approximately 32 million land-based and cellular telephone numbers, including 246,143 submitted by Mississippi residents. The Federal Trade Commission estimates that the national registry will eventually have 60 million numbers.

Mississippi, which only registers land-based home numbers, had registered 140,613 telephone numbers as of Monday, according to the Public Service Commission.

Mississippi, among 37 states that have or soon will have no-call lists, began signing up consumers for its own list on July 1. Officials with the Mississippi Public Service Commission estimate that as many as 400,000 people will eventually register their telephone numbers.

Joining the national registry guarantees a spot on the state list because Mississippi will automatically add Mississippi numbers that are on the FTC list to its own state lists.

But Mississippi is not among the 14 states that have chosen to merge their lists with the federal registry or have their law mirror the federal law. So state residents who join the Mississippi do-not-call registry must also join the national registry if they want to be on the federal list.

Currently, Mississippi's no-call rules conflict with the federal rules, being more restrictive in some cases and more lenient in others. That could create confusion in dealing with consumer complaints about telemarketing calls.

The FTC and the Federal Communications Commission say that the strictest rules, whether state or federal, will prevail, said Sharon Flynn, program manager for the federal do-not-call registry.

For instance, Mississippi's law exempts car dealers and real estate agents, but federal law does not. If a consumer signs up for both the state and federal list, car dealers and real estate agents, whether calling from inside the state or from outside, could not call that person.

Public Service Commissioner Nielsen Cochran said the Legislature will have to deal with the issue next session. "It could just choose to repeal the Mississippi no-call list and join the federal registry," Cochran said.

In the meantime, the Public Service Commission, which must enforce the no-call law, only has authority to enforce its version of the no-call law, Cochran said.

Consumers register online for the national list at www.donotcall.gov. The Web address for the state no-call registry is www.psc.state.ms.us.

Consumers can also register by phone for the national list by calling a toll-free number, 1-888-382-1222, and for the state list by calling 1-866-622-5567.

D'head group to meet

The monthly Diamondhead Business and Professional Association membership meeting is set for August 28th at 8 a.m. at the Diamondhead Country Club.

The guest speaker will be William Hoffman, author of the book and upcoming MGM movie, "Tough Guy," starring Matt Dillon.

Hoffman has published many books such as, "Contract Killer," "Loud & Clear," "Casino Cheat," and the "World Series of Poker," and many biographies on famous people.

The group's "Business After Hours" will be held the same day from 5-7 p.m., co-hosted by Melisa Komarek of Diamondhead Home Sales, and Judy Page of Just Judy's Tanning Salon.

Hancock Chamber, Exchange Club Partner to Host State Chamber for Town Meeting to address issues facing Mississippi this year

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Exchange Club of Hancock County will host the Mississippi Economic Council (MEC) as the featured speaker for a "town meeting" on Thursday, September 25. The event will be held at Casino Magic from 12 noon - 1pm.

The purpose of the meeting is to provide the citizens of Hancock County with an opportunity to learn more about what can be done to keep Mississippi on track for a more prosperous future.

The featured speaker is Blake A. Wilson, president of the MEC, the state Chamber. During his remarks, he will focus on Mississippi's successes and target issues that are facing the State this year.

Participants will be invited to provide input on issues vital to continued economic progress. Attendees will be invited to cast their vote on the issues that are most important to them. One issue that is expected to be a topic is tort reform.

Seating is limited for the luncheon event, so make your reservations today by calling the Hancock Chamber at 467-9048.

All interested citizens are encouraged to attend. Advance reservations and payment of $11.50 per person for the luncheon are requested.

Please mail checks payable to the Exchange Club of Hancock County to: 412 Highway 90, Suite 6, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

Business courses offered

Anyone trying to start a new business will be able to get help with a variety of courses offered next month by The University of Southern Mississippi Small Business Development Center.

The courses are offered at various locations along the Gulf Coast. Course offerings include "Be Your Own Boss," which will be offered from 1-3:30 p.m., Sept. 11, at the Biloxi Bay Chamber of Commerce, 693 Beach Blvd., Biloxi Port Commission Building, second floor, in Biloxi. General small business start-up information will be covered, such as licensing, taxes, zoning, business planning and financing. The fee is $20 in advance.

"QuickBooks Pro for Beginners" will be offered from 8:15 a.m.-12:15 p.m., Sept. 17 and 24, at the SBDC, which is adjacent to the Gulf Park campus. This two-part, hands-on computer workshop is for beginners interested in learning the basics of QuickBooks. Topics to be covered include: financial statements, invoices and much more. The early bird fee is $225, with payment received before Sept. 10. The regular fee is $265 (after Sept. 10). Seating is limited. No "pay at the door" fees will be accepted.

"Writing a Winning Business Plan" will be offered from 6-8 p.m., Sept. 18, at the Gulf Park campus. Topics to be covered include business plan do's and don'ts, length, content and resources. The fee is $20 in advance. "Creating a Webpage for Your Small Business" will be offered 9 a.m.-noon, Sept. 27, at the SBDC. This hands-on computer workshop will assist the participant in the process of creating his or her own Web page. The early-bird fee is $89 (if paid by Sept. 20). The regular fee is $99 (after Sept. 20). Seating is limited. Fees cannot be accepted at the event.

To prepay course fees, mail a check made payable to USM SBDC to the USM Small Business Development Center, 136 Beach Park Pl., Long Beach, Miss., 39560. For more information, contact the SBDC at (228) 865-4578.

Northrop Grumman announces share repurchase, dividends

Northrop Grumman Corporation's (NYSE: NOC) board of directors has approved a share repurchase program of up to $700 million of its outstanding common stock and declared quarterly dividends on its common and preferred stock.

"Today's decision reflects our high degree of confidence in the company's operations, financial performance and outlook," said Ronald D. Sugar, Northrop Grumman's chief executive officer and president. "The repurchase program, combined with maintaining a competitive dividend payout, is part of the company's strategy of using our strong cash flow to enhance shareholder value. The strategy also includes our commitment to improving our credit profile and retaining financial flexibility."

Share purchases will take place at management's discretion from time to time, depending on market conditions, in the open market and in privately negotiated transactions over the next 18 months. The company will primarily use cash from operations to finance the repurchase. As of July 31, 2003, Northrop Grumman had approximately 183 million shares outstanding.

The board declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share on Northrop Grumman common stock, and payable Sept. 13, 2003, to shareholders of record Sept. 3, 2003. The board also declared a dividend of $1.75 per share on the company's Series B convertible preferred stock, payable Oct. 15, 2003, to shareholders of record Oct. 3, 2003.

Somewhere over the Sound...

A waterspout swirls around in the Mississippi Sound last week during rainy weather.

Former Marine Corps Sergeant to speak at Lakeshore Baptist Church Aug. 24-27

Sitting in his wheelchair, Marine dress blues, with no legs, he looks distinguished, authoritative. He is a man sent with a message for our times.

He speaks with thunder in his voice. His story is powerfully graphic, revealing, and rings with reality about a country and a national heritage that many Americans have forgotten.

His name is Tim Lee. He is a former Marine Corps Sergeant and Purple Heart recipient from the Vietnam conflict. A violent land mine explosion in 1971 placed him in a wheelchair, but also made him one of the most listened to people in America.

He is recognized across the nation as one of the most exciting Evangelists and Christian Statesmen of our generation.

He shares a personal testimony that has impacted the lives of United States Senators and Congressmen, Governors and state and local officials. He has won the acclaim of thousands of American citizens, and the respect of the strongest and noblest of men and women who have heard his unique delivery.

His remarks and conclusions on the topics he addresses are controversial and explosive, but they present strong biblical truth and patriotic ideals in a way that captivates his audiences.

Fish & Wildlife Expo this weekend

CONSERVATION CORNER

BY JAMES CUMMINS

The fourth annual Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Expo will be held on August 22-24 at the Forrest County Multi Purpose Center in Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

Steve Azar, a country music singer and a Charter Member of Wildlife Mississippi, states, "Anyone who loves hunting, fishing or just being outdoors will find something of interest at the Expo. Plus, all proceeds benefit my favorite conservation organization, Wildlife Mississippi, for use on fish and wildlife projects."

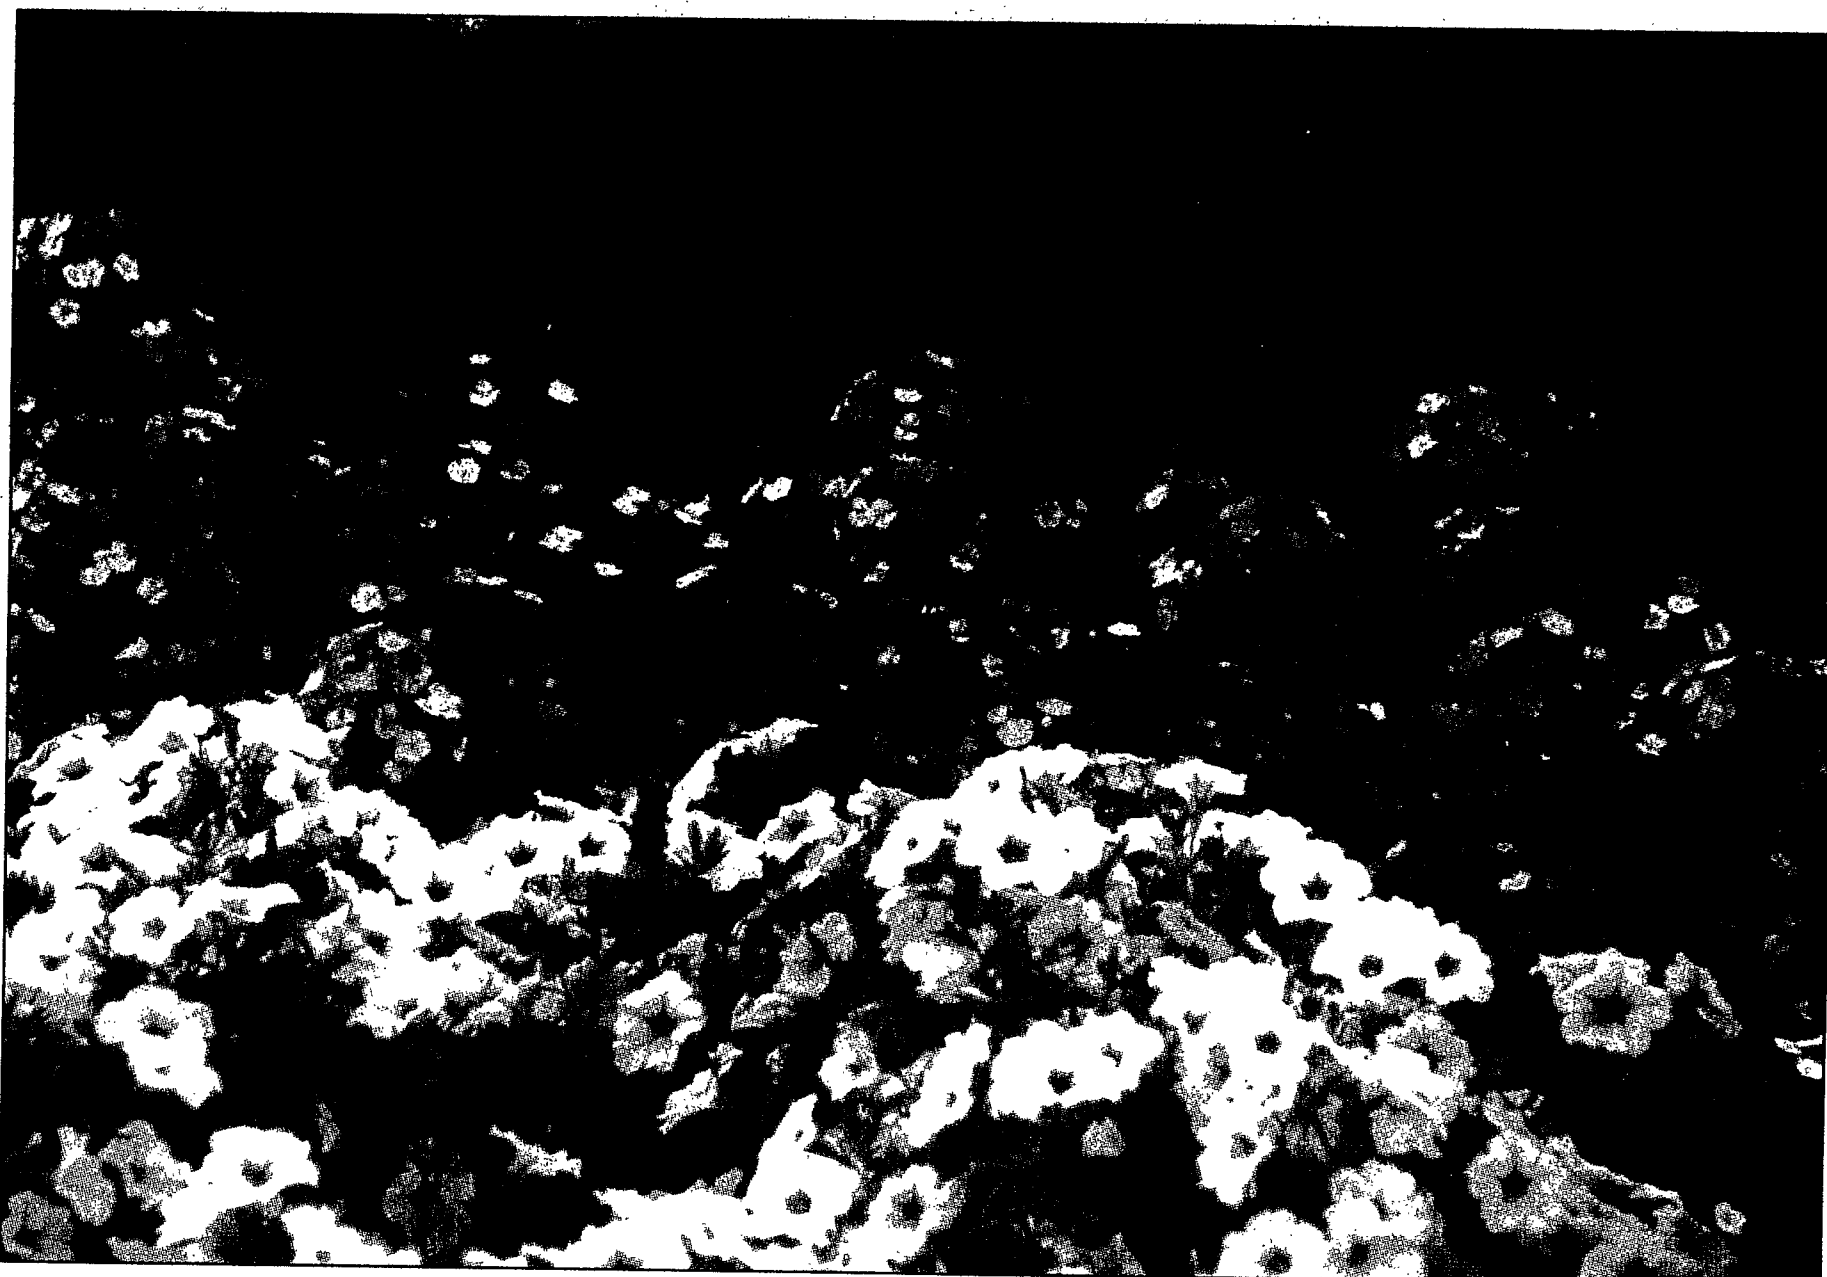

Wildlife Mississippi has attracted some top entertainment for the Expo. We are very fortunate that Captain Rick Hunt of Captain Rick's Outdoor Adventures will be conducting saltwater fishing seminars. Hunt has been described as one of the most successful guides in south Louisiana. His success can largely be attributed to experience. Back by popular demand, Terry Vandeventer, a professional herpetologist, will conduct a seminar at the Expo each day with his live snakes. Vandeventer has hunted and studied reptiles throughout the world. Over 75,000 people see his demonstrations annually. He will discuss their life histories, habits and their effects on people. If you missed it last year, here's your chance!

David Hall, a member of the North American Falconers Association, will be presenting demonstrations about falconry on Saturday and Sunday. If you have any questions about falconry, ask him at his seminars or stop by his booth. Preston Pittman is one of the country's premier turkey callers and will be demonstrating some of his abilities at this year's Expo. Blessed to be a man doing what he loves, Pittman was raised in the outdoors, hunting and fishing. He took up turkey calling and hunting. Pittman went on to win and place in so many contests that he can't remember them all. He is the only person to hold five different world titles. Pittman appeared on the David Letterman show earlier this year.

Have ever wondered what that buck on your wall scores? You don't have to guess. The Magnolia Records Program will be at the Expo. The antler scoring system is identical to that used by the Boone & Crockett and Pope & Young clubs. All whitetail deer taken legally in Mississippi are eligible. All one has to do is bring his or her deer to the Expo between 3 and 9 p.m. on Friday, August 22 or from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 23. All entrants meeting the minimum requirements (125 - Typical, 155 - Non-typical) will receive an official certificate. Scoring will take place on Saturday, August 23.

Show Hours are: August 22, Friday, 3 pm - 9 pm; August 23, Saturday, 10 am - 8 pm; August 24, Sunday, 12 pm - 5 pm.

Amazon Grace

Amazon Rose Magic and Amazon Cherry display rich and vibrant colors in this bed at the Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station near Crystal Springs. Here, they are combined with Tidal Wave Silver petunia.

Amazon dianthus destined to be a hit

Several new plants should make this fall a great one, and the newcomer that has everyone talking is the Amazon series of dianthus.

In our trials at the Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station in Crystal Springs, growers from several states were mesmerized by the size and beauty of these plants. It was the same at the Park Seed Trials in Greenwood, S.C., where the Amazon dianthus was the most photographed plant in the garden.

The Amazon dianthus originates from Pan American Seed and is considered a Dianthus barbatus interspecific hybrid, which means it is a lot tougher than the plant we know as pinks (the Dianthus chinensis).

Another barbatus hybrid

Southern Gardening by Norman Winter MSU Horticulturist

is the Bouquet Purple, a Mississippi Medallion award winner with an amazing blooming ability.

The Amazon series made its debut last year as a single plant called Neon Duo that produces clusters of flowers in cherry to purple. Though it came out last year, local garden centers didn't carry a noticeable quantity.

It received an excellent rating in University of Georgia trials and Top Performer recognition at the North Dakota State University Bedding Trials. This year there are three new varieties: Cherry, Purple and Rose Magic.

The Cherry and Purple are self-explanatory, but Rose Magic is close to indescribable, with various shades of rose, pink, cherry and white all on one flower cluster.

The Amazon dianthus easily reaches 24 inches tall on long stems perfect for cutting. In fact, I predict our young cut flower industry will gladly add this one to their product line.

Reports from across the country are showing a remarkable vase life of 12 to 14 days.

The plant's growth habit and leaf size remind me of carnations, except the dianthus is thicker and much hardier.

The Amazon has excellent cold resistance and is fairly heat tolerant.

Whether grown as a short-lived perennial or an annual, this dianthus will be mandatory for the garden.

As with other dianthus varieties, your happiness with this plant revolves around bed preparation.

Select a sight in full sun and add 3 to 4 inches of organic matter, working in 6 to 8 inches deep. This will allow for good drainage during the heavy rains that seem to occur more often than in previous years.

Space plants 10 to 14 inches apart and plant at the same depth they are growing in the container.

Deadheading is necessary to keep growth vigorous and blooms repeating, and to maintain a tidy appearance.

Feed with a light application of a slow-release fertilizer about every four to six weeks.

Your landscape options are almost endless. In the fall landscape, combine with Redbor or Winterbor kale, or white or pink pansies.

In the spring landscape, use with petunias or white dianthus from the Ideal series.

Use the Amazon Purple with Early Sunrise coreopsis for a really bold and flashy display.

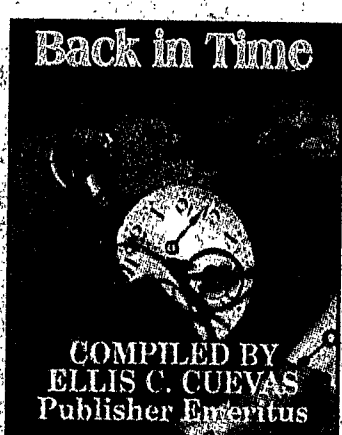

Although it isn't yet time to shop for or plant the Amazon dianthus, you do need to put this one on your list of plants to look for in a couple of months.

August 14, 1983 - Bay St. Louis' Goodwill Thrift Store will be taking a giant step forward in about two weeks when its location is moved from Nacaise Avenue to a large Leroy J. Modenback, and Angie Morreale, were checking out the new location Wednesday morning and expressed their optimism about the location and potential growth the store has at the new address. Goodwill is an organization that employs the handicapped. They are largely a self-supporting organization and have about 45 employees from Gulfport to Bay St. Louis.

4-H shooting sports teach youth important life skills

BY KERYN PAGE

Developing responsibility, sportsmanship and self-discipline is the No. 1 priority of Mississippi's 4-H shooting sports program.

"Most people probably think our first goal is to teach kids to hunt and shoot," said Ben West, Mississippi State University Extension Service assistant wildlife specialist. "But that's not true. Our No. 1 goal is to teach discipline, concentration and other skills young people can use in the future."

Young people develop these qualities through the shooting sports program because their success depends almost solely on individual dedication and practice.

"With the shooting sports program, there's a very direct relationship between commitment and success. This is why we think the program has been so successful," West said.

Children involved in the shooting sports program can choose to develop skills in several areas, including shotgun, air rifle, .22 rifle, air pistol, .22 pistol, archery, black powder and hunting skills. About 1,500 Mississippi 4-H'ers participate in local shooting sports clubs, and about 1,000 of those compete in either the North- or South-region competitions.

Senior 4-H'ers can participate in a third state competition. The top four in each discipline then go on to the national competition. Mississippi 4-H shooting sports teams ranked second out of 15 state teams and 250 4-H'ers at the competition held this year in Raton, N.M.

"The performance of our 4-H'ers is a great testament to our Extension agents, volunteers and youth, and to the quality of our program. Competition allows the kids to see the results of their practice and reinforces the importance of dedication -- both very critical life skills," West said.

Youth who attend competitions must receive eight hours of one-on-one instruction from one of about 600 volunteers statewide. Adult volunteers attend a two-day shooting sports safety workshop where they learn techniques to help young people learn how to participate and compete safely.

"There's a lot of emotion involving kids using guns," West said. "But statistics show that shooting sports are the safest sports out there. In 30-plus years, Mississippi 4-H has not had a single shooting-related injury in this sport."

While parents must make the personal decision of whether or not their children should have access to guns, West emphasized that firearms are an important part of the Mississippi culture.

"This is a way for kids to get off on the right foot with guns," he added. "Obviously guns aren't for everybody -- that's why we have so many other programs in the 4-H Field and Stream Program for kids to choose from."

The shooting sports program is part of the Mississippi 4-H Field and Stream Program, a joint venture between the MSU Extension Service, the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, and 4-H.

Begun in the 1970s, thousands of children each year learn responsibility, sportsmanship, self-discipline and other qualities critical to the development of productive citizens, West said. The shooting sports program is one of the largest 4-H programs in the state, with 6,300 young people enrolled this year. The program doubles in enrollment every four years.

Other 4-H Field and Stream programs include 4-H Wildlife Habitat Evaluation Program, 4-H Youth Sportsfishing, School Enrichment Modules, Catch-A-Dream and Hunting Skills.

4-H Field and Stream uses these specific program areas as tools to engage youth and teach them important life skills. As a natural and important byproduct, participants in 4-H Field and Stream learn about the shooting sports, wildlife and aquatic ecology, natural resources management, and hunting skills and ethics," West said.

For more information about the 4-H Field and Stream program, contact West at (662) 325-3174.

Southern Delights

Southern Delights, owned and operated by Neil Favre, is truly a treat for your taste buds. Favre opened the restaurant only 2 years ago and already has a loyal following and an excellent reputation for providing really delicious food at reasonable prices.

Every dish is freshly prepared to order and the portions are more than generous. Take for example the fried green tomatoes with cucumber sauce or the fried eggplant with crab fingers and shrimp with hollandaise for only 6.95. Be sure to try the spinach-artichoke dip served hot with chips for only 4.99. Seafood gumbo, some of the best I've ever had, is available daily as well as a soup of the day.

If you are trying to eat light, order one of Southern Delights' fantastic salads. Boiled shrimp salad, grilled or fried shrimp salad, or the grilled, fried or blackened chicken salad are all excellent choices.

Southern Delights also grills steaks! Choose a 8 oz or 12 oz ribeye prepared to perfection served with a loaded potato and salad for a reasonable 12.49 for the 8 oz and only 15.95 for the 12 oz. Look for steak specials in the weekly ad that appears in Thursday's Sea Coast Echo.

Southern Delights has some of the most delicious specialty dishes such as the snapper, the grilled tuna or the stuffed crab platter. A very popular dish is Favre's own seafood medley: perfectly prepared marinara laced with shrimp, crawfish and crab served over pasta. The fried seafood plates are generous, especially the Seafood Platter. It consists of catfish, shrimp, oysters and frog legs, delicately fried to a golden brown, delicious! Of course Southern Delights serves all of your favorite traditional po-boys and sandwiches, and some not so traditional like the portabella mushroom sandwich. (You just have to try it, it's really good!) Try the grilled chicken sandwich with onions, mushrooms and swiss served on a Kaiser roll with french fries. Favre selects a lunch and a dinner special which changes daily except on Mondays, that's red beans and rice day, of course. And what better to top off a great meal than a delicious home-made dessert! The bread pudding with rum walnut sauce is fantastic as is the strawberry pecan cake, hummingbird cake or the banana pudding.

Lunch is served Monday through Saturday and dinner is served Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Make plans to bring the family to Southern Delights at 299B Hwy 90, corner of Dunbar and Hwy 90 in Bay St-Louis. You'll be glad you did!

Bay & OLA both sweep competition on the court

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers and Our Lady Academy Crescents both swept the competition in high school volleyball action on Tuesday. The Bay High Lady Tigers defeated the Hancock Lady Hawks in consecutive games in Kiln 15-2 and 15-8. The Tigers took a 3-1 lead and didn't look back in the first game. Bay High ripped off six consecutive points to push the score to 9-1 before Hancock broke the possession.

Hancock head coach Denise Ladner stated, "Bay High showed why they have the best team on the Coast. Their combination of athleticism and height was a major factor in the game tonight. We moved Elyse Ramond up from junior varsity and she performed very well for us. Tiffany Appel is coming around and doing well on the court. We have Pass Christian on Thursday at home and we are looking forward to getting back on the court."

In the first game, Tori Lansaw and Kendra Reed displayed their ability with four kills and three kills, respectively.

In the second game, Bay High jumped out to a 9-0 lead before Hancock cut the score 9-3. The Lady Hawks rallied to make the score 12-8 behind a solid Tiffany Appel block but were unable to capitalize on the momentum. Bay High scored the final three points on their last possession to win the game and match.

Kendra Reed scored a game high 16 points for the Lady Tigers.

Bay High head coach Liz

Bosarge commented, "The players were very athletic tonight. We had sustained serves and were consistent all around. We are still moving players around in the lineup to see what our best rotation is. We have Long Beach at home on Thursday and we expect it to be a terrific game."

The Bay High junior varsity also swept Hancock 2-0 in the early games by the scores of 15-1 and 15-7. Jessica Trotter was high scorer for Bay High with 13 points.

The OLA Crescents swept the Lady Admirals of Gulfport on the road on Tuesday 15-9 and 15-6.

Kaylee Schmitt led with 10 service points and 4 kills. Rachel Cranford recorded 7 points and 8 assists while Annie Giardino also tallied 7 points. Jordan Fisher added 5 kills in the game.

The junior varsity squad also swept the Lady Admirals 2-0 by the scores of 15-3 and 15-3.

OLA will host the Biloxi Lady Indians tonight at 6 p.m.

Over the weekend, Bay High and OLA both competed in the Madison Central tournament. The Lady Tigers and the Crescents each recorded two wins and two losses in the tourney.

Bay High defeated McComb and Lafayette County and lost to Southaven and host Madison Central. The Crescents defeated Ridgeland 15-3 and 15-10 and Horn Lake 15-5 and 15-3. They lost to Tupelo 12-15 and 6-15 and Olive Branch 15-8, 4-15, and 8-15. Southaven won the 15-team tournament.

2nd annual Gulf Coast Kickoff for Classic Volleyball tourney scheduled

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Our Lady Academy will host the 2nd annual Gulf Coast kickoff Classic Volleyball Tournament at the Father Peter Mockler Gymnasium in Bay St. Louis on Friday, August 22 and Saturday, August 23.

Sixteen teams from across South Mississippi will join Oak Grove of Hattiesburg and Madison Central in the field.

The teams participating include Bay High, Biloxi, East Central, Gautier, Gulfport, Hancock, Long Beach, Madison Central, Mercy Cross, Oak Grove, Pascagoula, Pass Christian, Resurrection, St. Martin, Vancleave and the defending tournament and state champion Our Lady Academy Crescents.

Pool play is scheduled to begin at 4pm on Friday with two matches scheduled each hour through 9pm. play will resume Saturday at 8am and the championship match is slated for 3pm.

The Long Beach Lady Bearcats and Madison Central Lady Titans are early favorites according to play so far this season.

There will be commemorative t-shirts sponsored by the local State Farm insurance agents on sale throughout the tournament. Admission for the tournament is $5.

Area teams OLA, Hancock, and Bay High will all hit the court at 4pm on Friday while Pass High serves at 5pm. On Saturday, OLA and

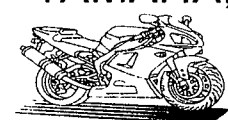

Hancock serve at 9am, Pass High 11am. Christian 10am and Bay

FORTY YEARS AGO

August 15, 1963 - Several physicians may accompany Hancock General Hospital Administrator Thomas O. Logue to Jackson Monday to appear before the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care seeking priority for the proposed 57-bed addition to the local plant, trustees of the institution were told Monday night. Dr. A.K. Matinovich of the hospital's medical staff, who was present at the board meeting, told the trustees that several of the local doctors might make the trip to Jackson to emphasize the urgency of the local need for larger hospital facilities. On Monday the 32-bed hospital had 43 in-patients and at least two patients brought to the hospital had to be sent to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport. Thus far for this month the patient load has been 33.

-A half million dollar luxury apartment project on U.S. 90 at Ruella Street got underway this week, first major development of its type here since the advent of the Mississippi Test Operations.

The triangular tract front 655 feet on 90 and 850 feet on Ruella has been purchased by Royal Apartment Corporation of Baton Rouge, LA. Clearing of the tract for 66 one, two and three bedroom units are already underway.

August 21 -1953 - R.G. Hubbard, Jr., Hancock County Board of Supervisor for District Five, today questioned the expenditures for wood preservatives in the four other beats. Hubbard said he felt "there is an excessive amount of preservative purchased in Hancock County." Hubbard said, "I have used less than $30 worth of preservative, therefore I am at a loss to understand how the other four districts could purchase more than $22,000 worth in one year and eight months. One district alone purchased $16,000 of wood preservative and only $1,400 worth of lumber."

The public will recall that Robert had a part in the invasion of North Africa last year but was then on a transport and is now in the Navy, and was on the first vessel to hit the Sicilian Beach where his wave of attack was land. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taconi of this city and his father is in the foreign mail department of the Post Office in New Orleans and is a commuter.

Diamondhead Garden Club news

BY SUSAN HOLCOMB

Locate your calendars and take note of the upcoming Diamondhead Garden Club activities. The first meeting of the 2003-2004 club year will take place at the Community Center September 17 at 10 AM. Join us for an overview of our plans. The traditional Harvest Moon Picnic will occur at the Twin Lakes pavilion on October 11th at 6 PM. Several days after the picnic we will hold our October 15th meeting at the Community Center. The Garden Club will sponsor an excursion including a tour of Longue Vue and lunch at Barraca's October 22nd.

The Harvest Moon Picnic is open to all Garden Club members, spouses, and friends. Please bring a dish and beverage of your choice. There will be no charge to attend.

We will meet in the POA Community Center parking lot October 22nd for the Longue Vue trip. Estimated departure time is 9 AM with an estimated return of late afternoon. Longue Vue is the estate home of Edgar Bloom Stern, philanthropist and cotton broker, and his wife, who was heir to the Sears Roebuck fortune. The approximate cost of transportation, the tour itself, and lunch is $46. The outing is open to everyone. If you are interested, please contact Leila Thissell at 255-3639.

Our yard of interest belongs to Paul and Gwen Montjoy. It is the result of hard work and placing plants that thrive in a tropical climate in the proper place. Paul's Natchez crape myrtles are pruned according to the "no crossed branches" theory. The ferns thrive in a shady environment. Aspidistra are located in a shade garden that lines Diamondhead Drive North. Paul's Bermuda grass provides a carpet of greenery. He pointed out Bermuda's need for sun.

Paul recommends spraying with MSMA to assist Bermuda grass. MSMA kills all broad leaves, thereby eliminating weeds as a hindrance to the grass.

Paul has landscaped the median in front of his home. Crape myrtles and English Hawthorn fill the area.

One of my favorite spots in the yard is a swing that is placed beneath trees where one could enjoy the shade. It provides the perfect place to put aside the challenges of the world.

Plans are well underway for the Coast wide Pilgrimage that will occur

Montjoy Garden.

March 26 through April 3, 2004. There will be a fashion show and an arts and crafts demonstration held at Gulf Hills Country Club March 30, 2004. Artist Stig Marcussen has donated a print to the Gulf Coast Council to assist in raising funds to cover Pilgrimage costs. The Pilgrimage Committee is already hard at work to make this an event that appeals to everyone.

We hope to see you at the Community Center at 10 AM September 17. For more information call Susan Holcomb at 255-8690.

Diamondhead Community Association News

BY HANK HOLCOMB and KRISTIN ALYEA

The Diamondhead Community Association hosted a primary election candidate forum July 29, 2003 in preparation for the August 5th elections. Approximately 220 Diamondhead residents assembled in the Country Club and listened to each of 40 candidates provide three minute talks on their qualifications and platforms. At the end of the presentations some of the candidates fielded questions from the audience.

On August 1, 2003 the DCA conducted their quarterly dinner program at the Country Club. The subject for this meeting was hurricane preparedness and the speakers were Kelli Hamilton, Deputy Director of Emergency Preparedness and Brian Adam, Director of Emergency Preparedness. Ms Hamilton and Mr. Adam provided an excellent overview of the challenges facing Hancock County in the event of a hurricane. Some of the speakers' points included information about the county's special needs shelter to care for those with medical conditions. There are only 50 spaces available at the shelter. Access to the shelter is through the county Emergency Operations Center (EOC). The EOC is activated for all emergencies and can be contacted at 467-9226. Ms. Hamilton recommended placing all valuable documents in one place where they can be quickly located and taken with you in case you need to evacuate your home.

The next DCA event is a candidate forum for the general election. This forum is scheduled for the Country Club on October 21, 2003 at 7 P.M. The next DCA dinner program will be November

Local Forestry Commission employees on western fire duty

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Pam Spencer, of Hancock County, is part of a 20-person Mississippi Forestry Commission fire crew that arrived on the Roberts Fire in Flathead National Forest, Montana August 14. The Forestry Commission crew is classified as a "type-two initial attack" crew. Initial attack crews work on the fireline and are the "front-line soldiers" in the battle against a raging wild fire.

The crew is scheduled to return to Mississippi in two weeks.

Specialty trained Mississippi Forestry Commission employees are dispatched to out-to-state fires on a volunteer basis.

The Temptations at Casino Magic

Chaka Khan, Debbie Reynolds also on tap for performances

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis is proud to welcome the "standard-bearers for breathtaking harmonies," The Temptations, September 13 at 9 p.m. Tickets are $19.95, $24.95 and $29.95 and can be purchased at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location.

With a string of hits including: "The Way You Do The Things You Do," "My Girl," "Get Ready," "Ain't Too Proud to Beg," "You're My Everything," "I'm Gonna Make You Love Me" and "I Can't Get Next to You," no other 60's pop group could top them.

These hits and many more were first performed in the early 60's by Otis Williams, David Ruffin, Eddie Kendricks, Melvin Franklin and Paul Williams. They are still lovingly executed today by Otis and their heirs-in-music: Ron Tyson (first tenor), Theo Peoples (baritone), and Harry McGilberry (bass). It proves those men are gone, but in no way forgotten - not by a grateful public or by the men who now carry the legacy forward into the next generation.

The Temptations started out in those Motown bus tours called The Motor Town revues.

They criss-crossed the country and the crowds became larger. Today the group still tours, performing at over 100 venues a year.

"We just never stop," Williams says, "because I think we've become like a piece of Americana. People want to see us." What they are seeing these days is a group that reminds Williams "more of what the first group of men were like" than any other lineup.

"This group has the talent, determination and brotherhood that will take us forward, give our fans what they come to hear and keep us on our toes doing that Temptations Walk into the year 2004," says Williams.

Don't miss The Temptations in their one performance at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Saturday September 13! Must be 21 to attend.

CHAKA KHAN HEATS UP BAY MAGIC

Grammy-award winning R&B diva Chaka Khan is set to perform at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis Friday, September 19th at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for $19.95, $24.95 and $29.95 through the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster Outlet.

After 30 years in the business, Khan is still wowing audiences with her genre blending sound and amazing stage presence. Her hits include: "I Feel for You," "Sweet Thing," "Tell Me Something Good," "I'm Every Woman," "Everlasting Love," "Do You Love What You Feel," "Through the Fire," "Ain't Nobody" and a duet with Bruce Hornsby on "Higher Love." True "Chakaholics" may even remember her voice on the original theme song to "Reading Rainbow".

Khan began her singing career with the band Rufus in 1971 and graduated to a solo artist in 1978. Since then, she has recorded 24 albums, appeared on 15 movie soundtracks and received nine Grammy Awards and one American Music Award. VH1 recently ranked Khan seventeenth in their "100 Greatest Women of Rock & Roll" special and she is credited with influencing countless other artists with her unique sound.

Don't miss the soulful sounds of Chaka Khan Friday September 19th at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis! Must be 21 to attend.

DEBBIE REYNOLDS RETURNS TO THE BAY

Stage and screen legend Debbie Reynolds returns to Casino Magic Bay St. Louis September 26th and 27th. Reynolds, a star of more than thirty motion pictures, two Broadway shows, two series as well as dozens of television appearances, is once again making her way to the Mississippi Gulf Coast to share her renowned talent.

Reynolds performs Friday and Saturday, September 26th and 27th at 9 p.m. in the Casino Magic Entertainment Complex. Tickets will be on sale beginning August 21st for $14.95, $19.95 and $24.95 at the Casino Magic Box Office, by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or through any Ticketmaster outlet.

Perhaps Reynolds is best known for her acting career, starring in "How the West Was Won," "Singing in the Rain," "Tammy and the Bachelor," "Goodbye Charlie," and more. Her recordings of "Abba Dabba

Fleetwood Mac

Grand Casinos release more tickets for Fleetwood Mac

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Grand Casinos recently announced that additional seats for the upcoming Fleetwood Mac concert have been released for sale.

These new tickets, which are available in all price ranges, are made available due to production and band releases. Ticket prices for the Sept. 6 show at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum are $125, $75 and $47.50, plus Ticketmaster fees, and are available through Ticketmaster or at the Grand Casino Box Offices.

Fleetwood Mac is currently touring North America in support of their newest album, "Say You Will."

The tour features Stevie Nicks, Lindsey Buckingham and Fleetwood Mac founding members Mick Fleetwood and John McVie. With Buckingham at the production helm, Fleetwood Mac will perform songs from their world-class catalog of hits as well as from their new release.

The band made history in the mid-70s with the release of such era-defining albums as "Fleetwood Mac," "Rumours" and "Tusk."

Their catalog of smash hits - from "Don't Stop" to "Rhiannon" to "Go Your Own Way" to "Landslide" and beyond - constitutes a soundtrack for our times. In 1998, the band was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. For more information, contact Grand Casinos.

HANCOCK BANK PLAINTIFF VERSUS
JON B. ROTH, JR.
D/B/A VINTAGE AEROPLANE CO.
INC. DEFENDANT
CAUSE NO. 03-0302
COMPLAINT IN REPLEVIN WITH BOND COMES NOW, HANCOCK BANK, Plaintiff, and files this Complaint in Replevin With Bond against the above-named Defendant, JON B.
ROTH, JR. D/B/A VINTAGE AEROPLANE CO.
INC., and as grounds would show unto the Court
the following facts, to-wit:

THAT the Defendant, JON B. ROTH, JR. is an adult resident citizen of London, England, residing at 51 The Grove, London, England N10 1QT, Vintage Aeroplane Co., Inc. has been administratively dissolved. JON B. ROTH, JR. is the principal owner of Vintage Aeroplane Co., Inc.

THAT on May 28, 2002, JON B. ROTH, JR. on behalf of Vintage Aeroplane Co., Inc. executed a Promissory Note and Department of Transportation Federal Aviation Administration Aircraft Security Agreement, in which the Plaintiff, Hancock Bank, true and correct copies of which are attached hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibits "A" and "B". Hancock Bank would show that pursuant to said Security Agreement, it holds a valid, properly perfected lien on One 1991 Boeing MDL #E75 Aircraft, Serial No.
75-5128, having an approximate fair-market value of Forty Thousand Dollars ($40,000).
Further, that Defendant JON B. ROTH, JR. executed Unconditional Continuing Guaranties and Waivers of Subrogation in favor of the Plaintiff Hancock Bank, true and correct copies of which are hereto and made a part hereof as Exhibits
"C" and "D".

THAT said property is wrongfully detained by the Defendant due to his default under the terms and conditions of the Note, Security Agreement and Unconditional Continuing Guaranties with the Plaintiff, Hancock Bank. As a result, HAN-COCK BANK, is entitled to immediate possession of its collateral, upon information and belief, is located at Stearns Airport, 7110 Road C, Kln, Mississippi, and Plaintiff tenders herewith Bond in an amount equal to twice the value of the subject collateral. Plaintiff stands ready to adjust said Bond should the Court in its discretion deem the same necessary.
WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED,
Plaintiff prays for the following relief:

A. THAT the Court immediately issue a Writ of Replevin directing the Sheriff of Hancock County, Mississippi, or any other lawful officer, to immediately seize the hereinabove described property situated on the premises to appear before this Court for a hearing to determine Plaintiff's right to possession of said property and
B. THAT, upon final hearing of this cause, the defendant will award to the Plaintiff a Judgment of Possession with said collateral to be dealt with in accordance with the laws of this State and discharging the Plaintiff and its sureties on the Bond herein.

The Hancock Chamber of Commerce works for you

BY JOHN P. BAXTER
Hancock Bank &
President, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce

WHAT IS THE CHAMBER?

The word chamber literally means an apartment, an office, a hall of justice or legislation. In many communities, the Chamber is the first stop for visitors, new residents, even retail and industrial prospects. Fortunately, Hancock County has made an investment in furthering the development of our economy to the industrial and visitor sectors through the Port and Harbor Commission and the Tourism Development Bureau. The Chamber works in concert with these organizations to support their efforts.

In Hancock County, the Chamber of Commerce is the heartbeat of this community. It is the glue that brings all segments of the community together, working toward common goals. In short, the Chamber is a voluntary organization of 800 business, community and governmental leaders representing 5,000 employees. Through the Chamber, we speak with one voice to address issues of concern to our community that affect our economy, social and civic well being. That is our mission.

The Chamber is the vehicle that gives all of us the chance to make a difference for our community and our businesses. And, as one of the fastest growing areas in Mississippi, we need to tap all of our resources to insure that as leaders we are making smart choices for smart growth.

WHY SHOULD I JOIN?

The Chamber is a great way to market your business and make a difference for your community through active involvement. In short, there are six compelling reasons why you should join:

Cuevas receives Lifetime Membership from Chamber

THE SEA COAST ECHO

During the August Board of Directors meeting of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Ellis C. Cuevas was designated as a Lifetime Member of the Chamber. Cuevas was recognized by John P. Baxter, president of the Chamber Board for his outstanding community service over the past 26 years. Cuevas first served as a member of the Hancock Chamber Board in 1977, and has been in active service to the community as Chairman of the Beautification Committee.

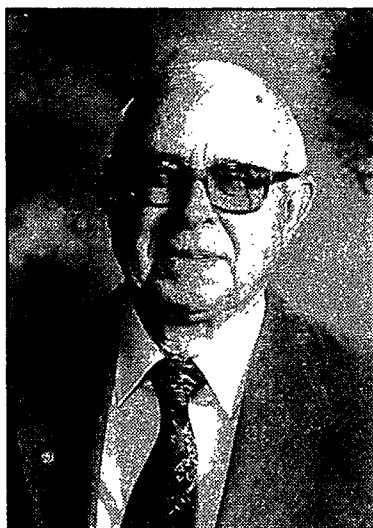

Cuevas, The Sea Coast Echo's Publisher Emeritus since September 2001, was born in Bay St. Louis and is a native of Waveland MS.

He and his wife, the former Lillian Jane Cuevas of Bay St. Louis reside in Bay St. Louis and they have been married for 40 years.

He is the son of the late Robert E. Cuevas and Magdalena Seither Cuevas of Waveland. He has three brothers, Clemence A. Cuevas of Fayetteville, NC; Raymond A. Cuevas and Felton J. Cuevas, both of Waveland.

He is a 1953 graduate of St. Stanislaus, served three years in the U.S. Army (National Security Agency) before beginning his newspaper career at the Sea Coast Echo in the production department in June, 1957. He served as advertising staff Dec., 1957; advertising manager, 1964; general manager 1968; editor and publisher, May, 1977 to Aug. 31, 2000.

He was inducted into the Mississippi Press Association's Hall of Fame, 1998; named Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Outstanding Citizen, 1991; received a Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's Paul Harris Award, 1992, and received Bay Rotary's 2001's

Ellis C. Cuevas

Vocational Excellence Award.

He was recognized by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in 2001, receiving the NASA Public Service Medal in recognition of three decades of steadfast journalistic support to the Stennis Space Center and its surrounding communities.

Current community involvement includes; president Hancock Medical Center's Foundation; member since formation; president past 15 years Hancock County Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), advisory council member since formation in 1973; 1st vice-president Hancock Historical Society; chairman County Beautification Committee for over 25 years; 1994-95 Hancock County Chamber of Commerce president, continuous chamber board member since 1977; president Emily deMontluzin Scholarship Fund since 1989, member since formation 1984; Pastor/Parish Relations committee member Main Street United Methodist Church, Sunday school teacher, past Administrative Board chairman three consecutive years, and past president Men's Club and 18 years as Head Usher chairman. Among Cuevas other activities and accomplishments:

- Helped form the Rotary Club of Diamondhead as a District Governor's representative in 1990 and received Distinguished Service Award, 1992.

- Active in the Mississippi Press Association and served many years on the board of governor.

- United Way of Hancock County, served several years as president, vice-president, treasurer and board of director over a 25-year period; co-campaign chair in 1978.

- Charter and continuously a member of the Mississippi Marine Debris Trash Task Force (formerly Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force and Friends of the Gulf Coast) representing Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

- United Way of South Mississippi, four year steering committee member who helped form a three-county organization, former board member for six years and Hancock County Area Operating Committee member for several years.

- Board member Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi for the past two years, also served as board member 1990-96.

- President of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Advertising Club, (Federation) 1979-80, treasurer and board member several times. Helped re-organize club following Hurricane Camille in 1978, attended organization's first meeting in 1967.

Hancock Co. Greenways

Growing a legacy of partnerships for recreational opportunities

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Imagine living in a community connected by trails, sidewalks and walkways. Imagine having easy access to the coastal and inland waterways, with recreational options throughout, and buffers of open space and green space defining the communities. This is what the people of Hancock County are not only imagining but also defining and building in their communities.

"We have the building blocks in place," said Lisa Cowand, "and we are looking toward the future to grow a legacy for our children and their children to inherit." Cowand is a member of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, who, with support from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and other agencies, are working to make this dream reality.

"It is not surprising to see the people of this community and visitors drawn to the beautiful and natural areas of this county," said Cowand. "The beach walking pathway has become very popular with residents and visitors alike," she said. "It is not unusual to see people, including entire families, walking on the pathway from early in the morning through the evening hours."

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors, working together, recognized the need for this growing community to continue to provide recreational areas and green spaces. In response to this need, they applied for and received a Mississippi Coastal Impact Assistance Grant from the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality to develop a Greenways and Open Space Plan for Hancock County.

"The Greenways Plan was a recommended strategy of the Hancock County Strategic Plan for Smart Growth, developed by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce," said Ron Magee, Co-Chairman of the Chamber's Community Development Committee. "The intent of the plan is to develop a series of green spaces and a trail system throughout the county to preserve nature resources and neighborhoods," he said. Magee said the plan will also provide additional recreational and eco-tourism opportunities in the County.

Sue Chamberlain, Project Manager for the Greenways Program, said that studies from across the country indicate that Greenways projects have a positive benefit to the community as a whole, and individual neighborhoods adjacent to the trail system or open space preservation areas. In the early 1980s, the City of Boulder, Colorado completed a greenways system along its floodplain. Ten years after the completion of the greenways system, homes located near it were reported to have values 32 percent higher than homes located further from the system. A survey from the Real Estate Industry completed in 2000, indicated that walking paths and bike paths ranked third among 39 features identified by homebuyers as crucial factors in home-buying decisions.

"We see the benefits of the beach trail and the Mississippi Sound every day," said Colleen Read, owner of the da Beach House in Bay St. Louis. "It brings visitors to our community, and reinforces the sense of community in Bay St. Louis," she said. Read said her business caters to the day traveler or tourist and local residents, offering bike and kayak rentals, different types of beverages, and other merchandise. "Local people visit our business daily to start their walks and runs on the beach, or to just get a cup of coffee and watch the water."

Thirteen small businesses located along the Wisconsin Fox River Trail reported increased sales during the first four months that the trail was open in the amount of $58,618. The State of Maryland has a statewide Greenways Program. The State estimates that the Greenways support 264 jobs across the state and produces $3.38 million per year in revenues.

"Partnership is the only way that we can grow a legacy for the future, but also realizes projects on the ground, right now," said Magee. "We can't ask one local, state or federal agency to be responsible for all the improvements, all the maintenance that goes with the development of a trails and open space legacy." For this reason, the Chamber of Commerce continues to be a partner with the Board of Supervisors in the development of the plan.

"In Hancock County, we believe success is generated through partnerships," said Magee. "Through partnerships, a variety of resources come together at the local, state and federal levels to develop and implement plans like a trails and open space legacy for Hancock County," he said.

"The Hancock Chamber views the Greenways Plan as an economic development tool," said Chamber President John P. Baxter of Hancock Bank. "We see the potential for small business development and enhancement through eco-tourism," he said. "We also see the potential to protect businesses and neighborhoods through the development of greenspaces and buffers," he said. Baxter also said that the end result of a greenways plan is the creation of a great quality of life, where people can enjoy the community and the nature areas around them.

"This," he said, "is attractive to businesses considering locating to Hancock County."

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors received notification in May of a technical assistance award from the National Park Service- Rivers, Trails and Conservation Assistance program. The technical assistance award will help the County identify funding opportunities, including grants, to help implement the plan. The County has also enlisted the support of the Land Trust for the Mississippi Coastal Plain and The Nature Conservancy. Both organizations have missions that seek to conserve and preserve lands with distinct ecological or community values. Other planning collaborators on this project include local Architect Allison Anderson, who is providing design services; and, Compton Engineering, whose engineers provide mapping and services for the project.

"We are about one-third complete with the project," said Project Manager Sue Chamberlain. "We meet monthly to review the progress of the project, and have scheduled quarterly evening receptions to get feedback from the public," she said.

The next reception is scheduled for Monday, July 28th at the Center for Creation located on Washington Avenue in Bay St. Louis. The Nature Conservancy and the Land Trust for the Coastal Mississippi Plan will explain landowner options for private conservation. If you would like to participate in the monthly meetings, please call the Hancock Chamber at (228) 467-9048 for the next meeting date, location and time.

WHAT DOES IT COST TO JOIN?

Joining the Chamber is the best marketing investment you can make each year. For a small business of up to three employees, the membership investment is only $150. Membership is on a sliding scale, based on the number of employees. Membership is also open to business associates of a regular member for a fee of $100 and to individuals not associated with a business for an investment of only $50. Schools, churches, civic and social organizations are also invited to join for an investment of $100. Corporate sponsorships are also now available, offering marketing benefits and services for one package price. Packages start at $1,000 and can be custom designed to meet the marketing needs of your company. Organizations that are already on board as annual sponsors include:

Governmental Sponsors: Hancock County Board of Supervisors, City of Bay St. Louis, City of Waveland

Entrepreneur's Circle: Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, Sea Coast Echo

Corporate Circle: Balch & Bingham, Charles B. Benvenuti, CPA, PA, EATEL Sunshine Pages, Hancock Bank

Chamber announces Coastal Clean-up Campaign for 2003

Annual event scheduled for Sept. 20

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Beautification Committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, chaired by Ellis C. Cuevas, publisher emeritus of the Sea Coast Echo, is seeking volunteers to participate in the Annual Mississippi Coastal Cleanup.

The event, which is held in conjunction with the International Coastal Cleanup, will be held on Saturday, September 20 at various locations throughout the county from 8 a.m. - 11 a.m. The event will run simultaneously throughout the Coast, and is touted as "the planet's largest volunteer cleanup effort on behalf of the marine environment."

Zone captains will be stationed at each site wearing yellow T-shirts to direct volunteers and supply them with trash bags, data cards, pencils, safety gloves, and bottled water provided by the Mississippi Soft Drink Association.

Each volunteer participating in the cleanup will receive one free tote bag. Following the cleanup, volunteers must show their tote bag as a pass for a free lunch of hamburgers, chicken sandwiches, potato chips and Coca-Cola products at Outback Steakhouse in Gulfport between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. only the day of the event. Locally, in Hancock County, free hotdogs will be provided at the Washington Street area of Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis, provided by the Office of Congressman Gene Taylor and Da Beach House.

Each year the #1 debris items collected in the county include: Shoreline & Recreational (Caps, Lids, Bags & Food Wrappers); Ocean/Waterway (Plastic Sheeting, Tarps, Bait Containers, Fishing Line); Smoking (Cigarettes & Filters); and, Dumping (Construction Materials).

Volunteers will pick up marine debris at more than 50 designated coastal cleanup sites (zones) in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson counties and the barrier islands. In Hancock County, the following areas and zone captains are now designated for cleanup:

Ansley/Heron Bay Road
Tracey Gremillion - 466-0378

Lazy River Road
Susan Duffy, 467-0800

Shoreline Park North East
Jackie Kidd, 467-0559

Shoreline Park South East
Stacy Smith, 467-4615

Other sites, call:
Hancock Chamber 467-9048

If you would like to volunteer for the cleanup, please call one of the coordinators listed above. If you would like to be in charge of an area not listed above, please contact the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce at 228-467-9048.

To volunteer in other areas of the Gulf Coast, call: Harrison County: 374-5022 ext. 5062 or 5063; Jackson County: 990-1640; Barrier Islands (requires your own boat): 875-9057 ext. 114; Grand Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve: 475-7047.

To register, go on line to the Coastal Cleanup web site at www.masgc.org/cleanup and download a registration form. Volunteers under age 21 must have their parents sign the registration form and submit it prior to cleanup.

The Beautification Committee of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce is a member of the Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force and is comprised of interested citizens and Chamber members. The mission of the committee is to manage anti-litter campaigns, recognize citizens through beautification awards, conduct community clean-up campaigns and promote landscaping & beautification projects. To join the committee and the Chamber, contact Tish Williams at 467-9048.

Hosted by the Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation

A NEW LOOK FOR THE EXPO

Jeff Clark, M.D., President, Wildlife Mississippi

A new look will greet visitors to the fourth annual Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Expo on August 22, 23 and 24 at the Forrest County Multi Purpose Center in Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

The weekend will allow anglers, hunters and outdoor enthusiasts to get the latest information on their favorite outdoor activities as well as get a look at the latest equipment to go along with their favorite pastimes.

Emphasis will be on fishing, hunting, camping and other outdoor activities. Hosted by Wildlife Mississippi, the Expo is one of the largest of its kind in the state.

Platinum Sponsors include Lamar Advertising and Clear Channel. Gold sponsors include Cellular South, Koyker Manufacturing and the Hattiesburg American. Silver Sponsors include BASF, Brewer Implement, The Carbon Fund and Coca Cola Bottling of Hattiesburg. The Bronze Sponsors are Baymont Inn and Suites, Federal Land Bank, Gulf Coast Outdoors Magazine, Mississippi Land Trust, Mississippi Woods and Waters Magazine, Ken Pickett RV Center, Service Printers, Sportsman Camo Covers, WDAM-TV and WJKX.

"We are expecting a crowd of more than 10,000 people to attend for the wide array of outdoor equipment, supplies and services, all at the right prices," said Jeff Clark, President of Wildlife Mississippi and a resident of Brookhaven. "Kids can have a great time and the whole family can learn about conservation through the many exhibits. It's a real bargain. Proceeds from the Expo will go to conservation projects throughout Mississippi."

The Expo will definitely be bigger and better than last year.

"It will have a totally new look. Anyone who loves fishing, hunting, camping, wildlife viewing or just being outdoors will find something of interest at the Expo," Clark said. Hunting gear, game calls, RVs, fishing supplies, tree stands, wildlife art and books, outdoor

WILDLIFE MISSISSIPPI IS STILL A GREAT INVESTMENT, EVEN IN DOWN TIMES

WE CALL IT...A BULL MARKET FOR BEARS

In 1907 when President Theodore Roosevelt refused to shoot a tied up black bear in the vast swamps of Mississippi, the land was pristine. Nothing in Roosevelt's life compares to his legacy as a conservationist. Like him, Wildlife Mississippi believes in investing time and energy in natural resource problems and how to solve them. This is what differentiates us from other organizations.

As members of our Theodore Roosevelt Society, you'll be among our most visionary donors who really care about the environment. Your gift of $5,000 or more will have an enormous effect on the Foundation's mission - from restoring longleaf pine in South Mississippi to native prairies filled with bobwhite quail in Northeast Mississippi to bottomland hardwoods in the Delta and other parts of this great state. Your generous contribution, at whatever level, will even help establish the Theodore Roosevelt National Wildlife Refuge and the Holt Collier Wildlife Interpretation and Education Center - all to improve Mississippi's quality of life for generations to come...not to mention for a few bears.

Consider making Mississippi a better place to live and work by joining the Theodore Roosevelt Society. For more information, contact James L. Cummins, Executive Director, at (662) 686-3375, email him at jcummins@wildlifemiss.org or contact your South Mississippi Field office at (601) 264-6010.

"THE BASS TUB"

TO MAKE SPECIAL APPEARANCE

The Bass Tub, a 5,000-gallon portable fish tank, will be at the Expo. Stocked with fish native to Alabama, Mississippi and

Louisiana, the huge tank of fish is a live classroom for anglers. One of its primary goals is to educate as well as entertain the fishing enthusiast and those who don't know about what lurks in area waters.

More than just an aquarium of huge fish like those in zoos, "One of its primary goals is to educate and entertain the angler," said Judd Brooke, one of the Foundation's Trustees and a resident of Hancock County.

Spectators will get a "fish eye view" of how fish act around different types of underwater environments. Brooke says that kids come to stare at the lunker bass in the tank while adults come to be amazed by the different species of the area.

The aquarium is stocked with largemouth bass, striped bass, white bass, walleye, crappie, bluegill, channel catfish, flathead catfish, blue catfish and some other unusual species native to the area.

The water in the tank is tap water that has been treated to simulate area lake conditions. The water temperature is usually 60-65 degrees. There are artificial "logs" and other structures that show how fish congregate under water included in the huge display.

The demonstrations performed at The Bass Tub are popular whether you fish or not.

PRESTON PITTMAN TO TALK TURKEY

"Hatched" on Thanksgiving Day, 1953, Preston Pittman is one of the country's premier turkey callers and will be demonstrating some of his abilities at this year's Expo.

Blessed to be a man doing what he loves, Pittman was raised in the outdoors, hunting and fishing. He took up turkey calling and hunting. Pittman went on to win and place in so many contests that he can't remember them all.

Some of his wins include: The World Turkey Calling Contest, The World Natural Voice Turkey Calling Contest, One-

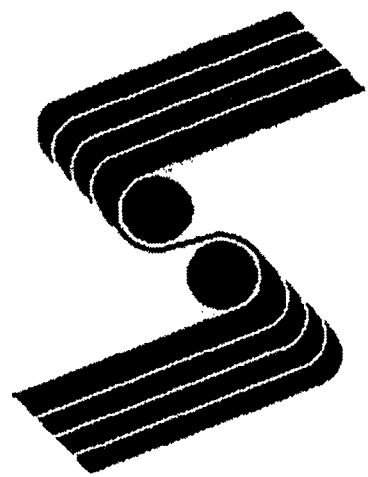

Half Of The World Two-Man Team Turkey Calling Contest, The World Gobbling Turkey Calling Contest and The World All Call Turkey Calling Contest. His winning streak makes him the only person to hold five different world titles. Some of his other wins include: seven National Championships, nine National Champ of Champs, U.S. Gobbling, Grand National Gobbling, Grand National Champ of Champs and many, many more.

Pittman has slowed down in the past years, but will still get in a few competitions from time to time.

Preston Pittman has been featured in several outdoor hunting magazines. He has also appeared on The Late Show with David Letterman, The Tonight Show with Jay Leno, America's Funniest People, Real People and so many hunting shows it is difficult to name them all.

Pittman has hunted across the United States and was the first person to document a Double Grand Slam, which are two turkeys of each of the four major sub-species in the United States.

SKY LAKE

PRESERVING A STAND OF ANCIENT CYPRESS

If there is a parcel of land in the State of Mississippi worth preserving, it is the 773-acre Sky Lake. According to Leila C. Wynn, Past-President of the Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation, "When I went to Sky Lake, it was if I was stepping back into a prehistoric time - what a thrill!"

The Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation's involvement in the preservation of Sky Lake began when the organization was founded. The Foundation worked with the Office of the Governor and the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks to acquire the property.

The former Mississippi State Record baldcypress is one of hundreds of trees this size on Sky Lake WMA. It measures 40 feet in diameter. Photo by the Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

Sky Lake Wildlife Management Area (WMA) is located approximately 10 miles north of Belzoni on Highway 7 with access being dependent upon the water levels in the area. For years, local citizens have been familiar with the area they call Sky Lake. The area's greatest asset is the magnificent stand of cypress trees.

SIGNIFICANCE OF SKY LAKE

Dr. David Stahle, the Director of the Tree Ring Laboratory at the University of Arkansas, specializes in the analysis of tree-ring records. Dr. Stahle says, "Based on our field inspections and core samplings, my opinion they should be preserved."

"Here at Sky Lake one can see what native Mississippi was truly like in the heart of her forested wetlands, an ecosystem of such diversity and productivity that it was rivaled only by the tropical rainforests of Amazonia," said Stahle.

AGING SKY LAKE'S TREES

Baldcypress, in general, have the capacity to become some of the oldest and largest trees on earth. They are in the same category in size and age of the giant sequoia and redwood, which live 3,000 years. According to Stahle, "We have obtained small core samples from some of the living cypress trees and dead logs that litter the swamp floor at Sky Lake, and many of these individuals are in the 800 to 1,000 year old range. I believe that some of the oldest baldcypress at Sky Lake likely lived for 2,000 years."

baldcypress woodlands only heightens the value of Sky Lake, especially as an educational resource for the citizens of Mississippi and this nation."

RECREATION AT SKY LAKE

In the future Sky Lake will offer a variety of recreational opportunities to the public. Visitors may view and photograph birds and other wildlife. No camping is permitted on Sky Lake WMA as of yet, however, Leroy Percy State Park is located nearby and offers facilities for camping and RVs.

Limited permit hunting is currently allowed for deer, turkey, squirrel, rabbit, dove and raccoon. This hunting is an important tool for keeping certain wildlife populations within the carrying capacity of the habitat on the WMA.

We encourage you to show your appreciation for these

"Sky Lake contains some of the largest and oldest baldcypress trees that remain on earth, and they have international scientific significance."

Dr. David Stahle, Director

I can state with certainty that Sky Lake contains some of the largest and oldest baldcypress trees that remain on earth, and they have international scientific significance." Even before the Foundation began working on this acquisition, Stahle stated, "The record size and age of the Sky Lake baldcypress are a unique natural and scientific resource, and in

"On one level, the fact that so few of these native Mississippi wetland forests survive today in their original condition is a sad commentary on our shabby treatment of this ecosystem, which once was such an important part of the native woodlands of Mississippi," commented Dr. Stahle. "However, on another level, the extreme scarcity of old-growth efforts by visiting Sky Lake WMA and enjoying what it has to offer. To read the full story on the Sky Lake WMA, go to Wildlife Mississippi's website, www.wildlifemiss.org. PROGRESS REPORT

Wildlife Mississippi

Wildlife Mississippi – A Progress Report

The Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation, or Wildlife Mississippi, as it is commonly called, was founded to conserve, restore and enhance Mississippi's fish, wildlife and plant resources for the enjoyment and enrichment of all Mississippians and its visitors, and especially its children and grandchildren. Below are the program areas of the Mississippi Fish and Wildlife Foundation and the progress that has been made to date.

I. Conservation Education

- Published 15 electronic brochures on financial assistance conservation programs (1999, 2000, 2001 and 2002).
- Published 11 electronic brochures on general information on conservation (1999, 2000, 2001 and 2002).
- Conducted 21 presentations on cogongrass to a variety of conservation organizations and agencies (2000, 2001 and 2002).

FALCONRY TO BE DEMONSTRATED

At the Expo, David Hall, a member of the North American Falconers Association, will demonstrate falconry on Saturday and Sunday. The purpose of his seminars is to discuss the sport of falconry and educate the public on state and federal regulations concerning falconry.

Shooting of these birds, which is both a state and federal crime, should be reported immediately. These birds are not "pets" they are hunting partners. Even though there is a strong devotion to the birds, they are free to go anytime they enter the field to hunt.

If you have any questions about falconry, ask David at his seminars or stop by his booth at the Expo. David will be happy to "talk hawks" with you.

BOWHUNTERS TO HAVE CHALLENGE

The Bowhunter Challenge is a hands-on, live-fire educational and competition program. The system revolves around the Knight's Wildlife Pop and Walk-Out 3-D Target Bowhunting Simulator which creates a challenging, simulated bowhunting environment for bowhunters of all proficiency levels.

A total of nine stations, plus stationary decoy targets create the Bowhunter Challenge. The shooter never knows which target is coming next or what the distance will be. Its fast, fun, educational and the experience will test any bowhunter's skills.

Compound and traditional shooters are welcome to take the Challenge. All one needs to do is bring his or her bow, arrows and other archery equipment needed for shooting. This is a "real woods" bowhunting practice just in time for archery season. The Challenge creates a multitude of situations that bowhunters face.

For the past six years, the Bowhunter Challenge has toured the United States. It has been at the major archery tournaments, bowhunter jamborees, the Ducks Unlimited Great Outdoors Festival, the Bassmasters Classic and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Expo.

So, take the Challenge and test your bowhunting skills. In addition to plaques, first, second and third place prizes will be awarded. Plus, you'll have a ton of fun and become a better bowhunter. For more information, go to www.bowhunterchallenge.com.

ARTISTRY IN WOOD

People love to watch him make something come alive out of a stump of wood.

New at this year's Expo are sculptures out of stumps of chainsaw carving wood and has been chainsaw demonstrations conducted by carving at festivals, Dayton Scoggins. Before demonstrating at various becoming a full time wood carver, Scoggins was a towboat captain pushing barges on all of the major rivers. He started out his wood carving career twenty years ago by "whittling" miniature tools, then animals and fish, which he has won blue ribbons for.

His wife, Michelle, purchased a chainsaw with a carving bar as a gift for him. He made her an eagle and hasn't stopped since then. Scoggins does caricatures of people, faces of Indians and mountain men. He makes beautiful

In June, Scoggins went to the Oregon Divisional Chainsaw Sculpting Championship and won first place. In New York this past July, he received first place in the Quick Carve, second in Carver's Choice and third in Judge's Choice.

VANDEVENTER GIVES SEMINARS ON SNAKES

Back by popular demand, Terry Vandeventer will once again deliver his unique brand of wildlife education to visitors.

A professional herpetologist, Vandeventer will display his live reptiles and snakes each day and present lectures and demonstrations on snakes native to South Mississippi to teach Expo attendees about their life habits, their effects on people, good and bad, and the history behind each snake. His demonstrations and lectures have been a big hit with everyone the past several years, even those that don't like snakes.

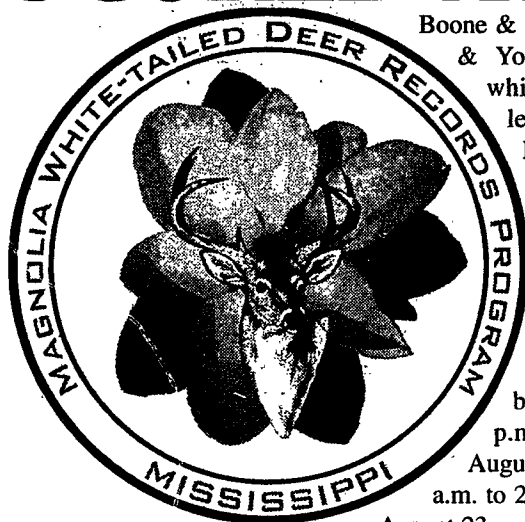

Vandeventer has hunted and studied reptiles throughout the United States, as well as around the world. Over 75,000 people see his live snake and reptile demonstrations each year.

If you missed it last year, here's your chance!

LAND TRUST HELPS WITH CONSERVATION

South Mississippi has seen significant growth in the past several years and it continues to grow, attracting new businesses and residents, as well as tourists. But the very reason many people call this part of Mississippi their home is it's rich history, prairies, red clay hills, bottomlands and bayous, coastal savannas, longleaf pine forests and scenic rivers and streams. According to Daniel Coggin, Director of the Mississippi Land Trust, "We must actively preserve these unique characteristics of this part of our state."

Mississippi's private citizens own approximately 75% of the state's land. For many Mississippi landowners their property is more than a financial asset; it is part of their family's history, their community and their state. But the landscape is changing. Today about 80 percent of all Mississippians live in cities and towns, compared to about 25 percent 50 years ago. As the urban population grows, natural habitats are displaced.

The Mississippi countryside is changing too. One of the most significant factors affecting our landscape is the continued breakup of family-owned farms and lands. Family-owned farms and recreational lands are affected by changing economics and the increasing tax burden on property owners. Passing on a piece of family property to the next generation is a time-honored tradition in Mississippi. However, estate taxes, which can be as high as 55 percent of an estate's total value, may force heirs to sell all or part of a family property.

Landowners and wildlife enthusiasts throughout the State of Mississippi will be surprised to find a wealth of information concerning fish, wildlife and plants in the available on the internet.

The site, www.misslandtrust.org, is hosted by the Mississippi Land Trust and designed by TecInfo. Once on the home page visitors can select an area of interest. The site is quick loading and easy to navigate, filled with useful information and stunning wildlife and nature photography by Michael Kelly. New information is constantly being added to the site, so visit often and watch it grow.

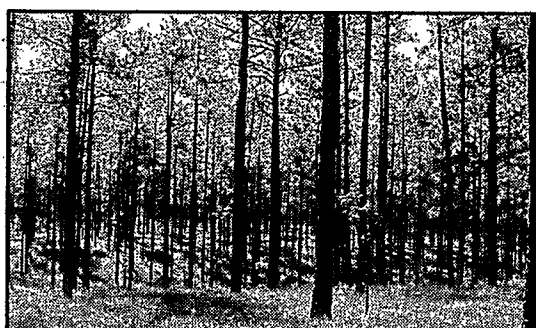

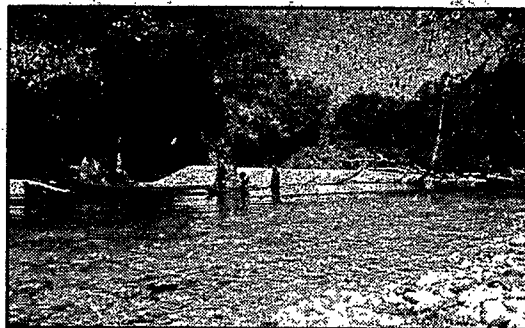

The site is intended to help Mississippi landowners understand one of the most flexible and effective means of conserving and protecting private property: the conservation easement. A conservation easement is a legal agreement that ensures a property will be managed in perpetuity according to the landowner's desires. It may also qualify the landowner for tax benefits.

Conservation easements can assist landowners in protecting their land, wildlife habitat, scenic areas or historic buildings. Every conservation easement document is individually crafted and reflects the special qualities of the land protected and the needs of the landowner.

The Mississippi Land Trust's internet site is filled with useful information on the organization including a section describing it, all about conservation easements, its conservation initiatives, various financial assistance programs, a staff profile, a newsroom, how to support the land trust, tax benefits of conservation easements and how to contact the Mississippi Land Trust.

If you would like more information on conservation easements and the tax benefits they provide, call the Mississippi Land Trust at (662) 256-4486.
